India Gets U.S. Promise On Arms Aid

Nehru Asks For Help In New Losses

Red Chinese Push Toward Se Pass As Another Town Falls

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India turned to the United States today for weapons to fight the Communist Chinese and was assured they would be sent soon.

Prime Minister Nehru asked U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith for the weapons and an American Embassy spokesman said Galbraith indicated they are coming.

Almost simultaneously an Indian spokesman announced the loss of Demchok, the farthest thrust the Chinese have made southward at the western end of the fighting front.

The spokesman estimated between 2,000 and 2,500 Indian soldiers are dead or missing since the Chinese launched their offensive Oct. 20 and added the Chinese are believed to have suffered much heavier casualties.

Reinforcements were being rushed to Se Pass to try to head off at least one 10,000-man Chinese division moving from the key northeast border town of Towang, lost last week.

Despite setbacks such as the loss of Demchok India refused offers of mediation of the undeclared war with China.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said "no self-respecting country, and certainly not India with her love of freedom, can submit to Chinese aggression, whatever may be the consequences, nor can India allow China's occupation of Indian territory to be used as a bargaining counter for dictating to India a settlement of differences regarding the boundary on China's terms."

American infantry weapons for the Indian defenders in the Himalayas may begin arriving by air by the end of this week, it was understood.

The terms on which the weapons will be supplied were left open, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said. In the past India has insisted on paying for weapons but now there is no cash and a desperate need for arms.

A small shipment of British weapons has already arrived. France and Canada have also

12 Injured As Cars Hit In East End

Midland Man, 46, Cited By Officers In 3-Way Mishap

A three - car crash Sunday night on Pennsylvania Ave. at Boyce St. hospitalized three and injured nine others, police reported.

The East End mishap injured seven members of a Medina County family, a Midland man, a Dixonville woman and a city man and two of his children.

Injured were Shannon Young, 34, of Brunswick, the driver of one car, Mrs. Elva Young, 35, his wife, four of their children and his brother.

Also injured were Howard McDonal, 46, of 447 Penn Ave., Midland, driver of another car in the mishap, who was cited on a reckless operation charge, Donald R. Welch, 37, of 626 Garner Ave., another driver, two of his children and a passenger in the Welch car, Miss Norma Conklin, 35, of Dixonville.

Police said the crash involved westbound cars driven by Young and Welch and an eastbound auto driven by McDonal.

There was damage to the entire front of the Welch and McDonal cars and both the front and rear of the Young auto, police said.

Welch told police he "couldn't tell what happened," except that Young's car was shoved into his. Young told police McDonal's car, traveling in the wrong lane of traffic, hit the Medina County car head-on.

McDonal blamed the crash on Young, police said. The Midland man claimed the Young car hit his head-on, officers said. Patrolmen Jack Strobel and L. E. Richard investigated. The injured were taken to the hospital in an ambulance and police cruisers, officers said.

Hospitalized were Mrs. Young, who is in "fair" condition today with lacerations of the left fore-

Toronto Printer, 53, Dies In Newspaper Plant Fire

The life of a veteran printer was snuffed out in a fire and explosion which destroyed the Toronto Tribune weekly newspaper and a printing shop in the same building in the Jefferson County community Saturday night.

Walter M. Fair, 53, of Steubenville, a printer, perished in the conflagration while working in the story-and-a-half building housing the 83-year-old newspaper and the Boyer Printing Co., owned by the victim.

Firemen from Toronto and Steubenville, who were summoned at 9:15 by dense clouds of smoke in the area near the center of the city, said Fair died of smoke inhalation. His body was discovered near an exit in the rear shortly before the explosion.

The building on S. 3rd St. was reduced to a mass or rubble and debris. Damage was estimated at $75,000.

Clarence F. Peck of Toronto, editor and publisher of the Toronto Tribune since 1945, estimated the property loss.

Neither Peck or Toronto Fire Chief William Hutchinson ventured to guess the cause of the fire, which ruined eight complete pages of a 16-page pre-election edition that was to be published Thursday.

Peck said today will be the first time since 1879 that the Toronto Tribune has missed an edition. The editor added he plans to construct a new building and resume publication as soon as possible.

Peck added that it was customary for Fair to be at work at that time of the evening to work on "rush orders." Firemen said the victim apparently was attempting to get out a rear exit when he was overcome with smoke. The fire started in the front of the structure, they added.

Firemen were summoned by Roy Miller, a volunteer fireman from Toronto, who was en route to the station to help clean equipment used in fighting an earlier fire at the Toronto plant of Titanium Metals Corp. of America.

Dense clouds of smoke rose from the building when 21 firemen arrived after Miller had telephoned in the alarm.

Spotting Fair's auto parked on the street in front of the building, firemen raced to the rear and found the victim's body on the floor only four feet away from an exit. An explosion followed a few minutes later.

Peck reported the loss is covered by insurance. Temporary offices are to be set up in a nearby building. Facilities of the Tri-State Printing Co. and the Wellsville Printing Co. have been made available for publication of the weekly newspaper until a new plant is ready, Peck reported.

Fair had owned the printing shop since 1938.

Toronto firemen battled a blaze at the Titanium Co. plant for five hours. A spokesman said a pile of scrap metal shavings had caught fire near a railroad line. Railroad telegraph lines were burned, interrupting signal lights, and rail traffic was delayed for a while. There was no estimate of the damage.

Reds Agree To Remove Cuba Bases

Khrushchev Backs Down On Challenge Of U.S. Blockade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pushed today for fast diplomatic action to nail down Soviet Premier Khrushchev's agreement to pull Soviet missile bases out of Cuba.

Washington policymakers held hope—mixed with liberal doses of caution—that a breakthrough has been scored in the U.S.-Soviet confronation that bordered on potential nuclear conflict.

Khrushchev's pledge was hailed in Western capitals as a stunning victory for the United States.

Informed sources said there were no deals or secret understandings involved with the Soviet leader's offer to dismantle the Cuban bases and return their rockets to the Soviet Union. The only price he asked was a guarantee, which Kennedy gave, that

Kennedy Appoints 3 To Head Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy set up a special three-man committee today to handle negotiations looking toward an end to the Cuban crisis.

Kennedy designated John J. McCloy, whom he previously had appointed special assistant to U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson during the period of the Cuban emergency, as chairman of the group.

The other members are Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric.

Pope Boosts Commissions For Council

Extra Prelates Due To Speed Study On Various Proposals

VATICAN CITY (AP) —Pope John XXIII today enlarged the key commissions drafting proposals for the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council, and appointed 82 additional prelates to serve on them.

Sixteen members had been elected to each of the 10 commissions in the week after the council opened Oct. 11. The Pope was to have named another eight to each commission, making a total of 24 members in addition to a cardinal-president of each body.

At today's closed council session in St. Peter's Basilica, a spokesman disclosed, Pope John's decision to name nine additional members, instead of eight, was announced.

The Pope's choices for 9 of the 10 commissions were announced.

Audit Starts For Rhodes' Office Probe

Court Hearing Set On Gov. DiSalle's Request For Books

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes said today he hopes for a public report within 48 hours on one of two formal inquiries into state operations stemming from Ohio's hot gubernatorial battle.

Two public accounting firms began checking records in the office of Rhodes, Republican candidate for governor, at his request to refute charges of fraud by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, incumbent Democrat.

The governor devoted an hour-long news conference to elaboration of his claims that Rhodes' examiners charged rent for use of state adding machines in auditing the books of subdivisions.

During part of that time, Rhodes was telling news and cameramen that he expects to be

A city excavating contractor injured critically in the crash of his sports car Oct. 19 died Sunday afternoon at 1:55 at City Hospital.

Howard Kevan, 32, of Coolidge Ave., R. D. 1, died of injuries suffered when his 1959 MG sports roadster plunged over an embankment on the Campground Rd. about a mile and a half south of Route 267.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mr. Kevan apparently was headed north when he lost control on a curve. The vehicle swerved off the right side of the road, crossed back and then went off the left side. The car then plunged 135 feet over the embankment, rolling several times.

Mr. Kevan suffered lacerations and a compound fracture of the left leg and internal injuries.

His death marks the 26th traffic fatality in Columbiana County this year, compared with 15 at the same time in 1961. A Boardman girl was killed in a one-car crash

Soviet Shows Premier As Peacemaker

MOSCOW (AP) —The Soviet press and radio did its best today to depict Premier Khrushchev as the man who averted a possible thermonuclear war over Cuba.

This was coupled with warning that the West should not interpret Soviet "peacefulness as a weakness."

Both points were made on the front page of Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, which said Khrushchev's decision to remove rockets from Cuba had the unanimous support of the Soviet people.

"The working people of Bylo-Russia, Kazakhstan, Georgia, Latvia and other republics of the country," said Pravda, "are giving their unanimous support to the wise policy of the Soviet government which was able, even in a most complicated situation, to find a way to avert the threat of thermonuclear war."

Both Pravda and the Moscow radio also gave much space to statements from abroad hailing

U Thant Set For Meeting In Havana

U.N. Leader Holds Talks In Move To Secure Settlement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. acting Secretary-General U Thant scheduled more talks with Soviet and U.S. officials today and made hurried plans for a trip to Cuba in an urgent effort to tie down a Soviet-American deal settling the Cuban crisis.

Thant was to confer separately with Soviet First Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily V. Kuznetsov, chief U.S. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson and Cuban chief delegate Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui.

The secretary-general and a dozen aides will fly to Havana Tuesday to begin arrangements for U.N. supervision of the withdrawal of Soviet missiles which premier Khrushchev and President Kennedy agreed to in an exchange of letters Sunday. Thant

U.S. Planes Check Cuba Missile Sites

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. reconnaissance planes focused their sensitive cameras on Cuba today in search of evidence that the Russians are starting to dismantle their missile bases there.

The American quarantine fleet remained on guard in the Atlantic. But no Soviet ships were reported within two or three days' steaming time of the U.S. quarantine line thrown up nearly a week ago.

There was an almost tangible easing of the tension that gripped the nation during the past week of crisis.

There was no accompanying reversal of the military preparations which had been mounting toward an indicating bombing strike or invasion of Cuba.

Informed officials said they don't expect to see any substantial reduction in those land, sea and air preparations at least until this country is convinced the missile threat from Cuba is removed.

Even after that it is almost cer-

Burglars Get Over $300 In Calcutta Safe

Leaving behind a heavy sledge hammer and several wrecking bars, burglars made off with an estimated $300 to $500 after "peeling" a large safe at the L. & M. Hardware store in Calcutta early today.

The cash was in an office safe weighing about a ton and a half. The door of the safe was "peeled", or ripped, according to Sheriff Russell J. Vanfossan.

Miss Rhonda Brown, an officer of the corporation which operates the store, reported the entry at 7:50 a. m. today. The robbery apparently occurred between 4 and 8 a. m. she said.

The intruders gained entry by breaking a rear window.

St. Clair Township constables told the sheriff they were at the scene at 4 a. m. and found nothing amiss.

Miss Brown said she had not worked Friday and was unsure of the amount of the loss. An inventory is underway to determine the total contents. Hunting licenses are also sold at the store.

The burglars used some of the heavy tools owned by the store to open the safe, sheriff's deputies reported. They added that nothing else in the building appeared missing.

54 Million Expected To Vote Next Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 54 million Americans will vote in next Tuesday's elections, an Associated Press survey indicates. This would be about 65 per cent of the total estimated eligible voters.

Ohio reported a gain in voters from 1958, up 460,000 to 5,667,500. About 3.8 million Ohioans are expected to vote.

Amendment Approved

Victory Margin Leaves DeGaulle Future Cloudy

PARIS (AP) — France waited anxiously today to see if President Charles de Gaulle considered his referendum victory decisive enough for him to stay on as president. The outlook was that he would and that the nation would continue in a period of bitter political strife.

The country's voters approved Sunday De Gaulle's proposed constitutional amendment providing for direct election of future presidents, an issue which De Gaulle turned into a test of strength with the majority of the nation's politicians. He deliberately tied his political life to a solid majority, saying he would resign if the approval was "weak, mediocre or doubtful."

De Gaulle won, but the margin was less than his followers expected, and only a minority of the French electorate approved his proposal.

Complete official returns from metropolitan France, including Corsica, were:

Yes—12,810,848, 61.76 per cent of valid ballots.

No—7,939,399, 38.24 per cent of valid ballots.

The "yes" votes represented only 46.3 per cent of the registered voters. Fully a fourth of the electorate abstained, mostly by staying at home although some cast blanks or spoiled their ballots. De Gaulle's backing on previous referendums had never been less than 56 per cent of all the voters.

Caretaker Premier Georges Pompidou and Interior Minister Roger Frey hailed the result as a popular mandate for the general, and predicted De Gaulle would take the same view. The president

Europe Hails Move To End War Threat

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe hailed the Soviet Union's retreat in the Cuban crisis as a stunning victory for the United States and greeted it universally with profound relief today.

The dramatic turn of events was seen as opening up possibilities for new East-West negotiations on the whole question of disarmament.

President Kennedy emerged in the West as the undisputed hero of the crisis. Soviet Premier Khrushchev also came in for some praise.

Banner headlines such as "Back from the brink," "Retreat from danger" and "End of a nightmare" reflected Europe's mood of deep thankfulness at having escaped the horrors of nuclear war.

The British government officially welcomed the Soviet announcement that it is ready to dismantle its Cuban missile sites. A few hours earlier Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had messaged Khrushchev that such a move would open the way to wider negotiations on a nuclear test ban and disarmament generally.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak said Khrushchev must be thanked and congratulated for his action.

Danish Foreign Minister Per Haekkerup expressed hope that the new Soviet-U.S. contact on Cuba might lead to "a final settlement in peace."

Employers Reminded Of City's Tax Deadline

Employers were reminded today that Wednesday is the deadline to file forms listing city income taxes withheld from employes' pay during the third quarter.

Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said the forms must be returned, along with remittance of the amounts withheld during July, August and September. Approximately 100 to 565 employers still haven't filed the forms, he said.

Meanwhile, Wilkinson said between 100 and 125 individuals whose wages are not subject to withholding still have not made quarterly payments on the estimated tax for the last quarter. The deadline was Sept. 30.

Oil Field Crippled

Castro Terrorism Seen In Venezuela Bombings

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — U.S. diplomats are alerting Latin-American governments against an expected continent-wide Castro sabotage campaign believed launched Sunday with bombings that knocked out one-sixth of Venezuela's oil production.

Authoritative sources in Washington said Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro gave the signal for general terrorist action in Latin America with the American-operated oil fields in Venezuela a prime target. Saboteurs dynamited four power stations of the Creole Petroleum Corp. at Lake Maracaibo, which holds beneath its waters one of the world's richest oil stores. The lake, roughly 75 miles wide and 130 miles long, lies about 300 miles west of Caracas.

The bombers struck shortly after midnight Saturday a few hours after President Romulo Betancourt ordered mobilization of the armed forces to counter what he called the threat to Venezuela of "the reservoir of Soviet nuclear rockets in Cuba."

U.S. officials were reported reminding Latin Americans that while a settlement may now be in sight to dismantle the Soviet missile sites, the long-range problem of dealing with Castro in this hemisphere will remain.

Venezuela blamed the oil field bombing on "Communists." Two suspects were hauled out of the debris-strewn waters of Lake Maracaibo after the blasts destroyed transformer stations of Creole Petroleum, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Police said one of the blasts apparently blew up the saboteurs' boat, killing one of the bombers. One of the suspects was so badly

Trial Planned For Motorist

An area motorist cited by the State Highway Patrol late Saturday night on Route 7 for driving while under the influence of liquor, is due for a hearing Thursday at 9 a.m. in Municipal Court.

Andrew Lee Boggs received the continuance this morning from Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after declaring his attorney was supposed to appear.

Boggs, whose address was listed by the patrol as Wellsville but whose driver's permit lists Rogers R. D. 1, was uncertain of his counsel's name, but Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark said he had been notified by Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara that he would be unable to appear today because of a previous commitment.

Judge Chertoff set a $500 bond for Boggs.

Paul H. Kapp of St. Clair Ave. Ext. was fined $5 and costs after pleading guilty to crashing a stop sign at Walnut St. and St. Clair Ave. He was cited at 6 p. m. Sunday, police said.

Jack Shields, whose address was listed as both Wellsville R. D. 1 and 454 1st Ave., posted a $57.50 bond for a hearing Friday morning on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way. He was cited Friday at 11:45 p. m. by the State Highway Patrol on County Rd. 424.

Patrol Probes 3 County Crashes

No one was injured in three minor area traffic mishaps investigated Saturday by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said cars driven by Rosalie A. Davis, 24, of East Liverpool R. D. 1 and Thomas H. Lawrence, 21, of Lisbon R. D. 3 were involved in a crash on Route 30 a mile and a half north of the city at 4:30 p. m. Officers said the two cars sideswiped as Lawrence started to pass.

A car driven by Glenn Pitts Jr., 16, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 figured in a one-car crash on Route 39 a half mile east of Route 164 at 10:10 p. m.

Officers said Pitts lost control, went off the left side of the highway and struck a guardrail. He was cited to appear in Juvenile Court.

A car driven by Carl Magill, 47, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 went off Route 518 about a mile and a half east of Route 164, near Gavers, Saturday at 2:55 p. m. The car struck a catch basin after leaving the road, the patrol said.

Kobuta Union Explains Vote On Proposals

Local 8-74, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, on strike at the Koppers Co. Kobuta plant has presented its side concerning the union's refusal of company proposals voted on Thursday night.

The union said its membership, "on its own initiative, rejected these proposals by a vote of 358 to 168, out of a possible 605 eligible voters."

The union said: "The main areas of disapproval by the members centered on the company proposal on contracting out work normally performed by Kobuta employes, a work assignment proposal, which in the union's opinion, would have opened the door to crossing craft and trade lines. (These two proposals alone would virtually have eliminated the maintenance and service departments in the 18-month proposed span of the new contract)."

There also was disapproval of "a proposed cut on incentive pay amounting up to 20 cents an hour which would have directly affected 50 employes and have affected 50 others on a partial basis," it said.

Objections were also expressed on restrictive additions to the overtime for call-in pay (covering pay for a call back after leaving the plant) and a changed proposal on vacations," it added.

No new talks have been set. Talks between the union and company, including federal mediators, have failed to settle the strike, which started May 1 with the expiration of an old contract.

Wayne L. Hays For Congress

Now serving his 14th year in Congress from Ohio's 18th District, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, Flushing Democrat, will be seeking re-election Nov. 6 for his eighth two-year term.

He is opposed by John J. Carrigg, Steubenville Republican councilman who is chairman of the history department of the College of Steubenville.

Wayne Hays, without question, has been the district's most active legislator in Washington in many years, and, because of his seniority and influence, is highly regarded by constituents in both parties. No "yes man", Hays frequently attracts national attention by speaking out bluntly against the administration's wasteful practices in foreign aid.

He has been active on the important foreign affairs committee, was a NATO delegate and has championed many needed projects in his home district, including East Liverpool.

Rep. Hays has succeeded in keeping the Ohio River Improvement Program going, with 19 dams projected for the total length of the Ohio, two of the five completed being in the 18th District. He has helped 18 municipalities obtain federal grants for needed sewage plant improvements and he co-authored the depressed areas legislation which resulted in the establishment of several retraining schools. He also has been active in public works, housing and highway projects.

His was one of the first voices to cry out against Soviet arms shipments to Cuba. He was co-author of the resolution in Congress which called upon the administration to take any necessary action to prevent the military buildup in the Caribbean island from becoming a menace to the United States.

He has proved by his occasional attacks on the actions of fellow Democrats that he has the courage of his own convictions and is an able representative of his home district and taxpayers in general.

Both Rep. Hays and his opponent in the forthcoming election have similar backgrounds. Both are college graduates, both have taught history and both have held elective offices in their home towns, but Congressman Hays' extensive political experience and leadership in national affairs should be sufficient reason for re-election at this critical time in the nation's history.

Cuba's The Least Part Of It

We have a bad habit in the United States of using telescopic vision. We get one object into focus and forget everything else.

The object now is Cuba, which had been coming into focus ever since Fidel Castro made it known he was working with Moscow to capture his country for communism.

The focus snapped into place with President Kennedy's announcement that Russian military aggression was being readied in Cuba for potential use against the United States; that the United States, therefore, would defend itself with a naval and air blockade of Cuba.

But Cuba is the least part of the complex of mischief with which international communism has surrounded the United States. This is not the time for tunnel vision on the part of the American people.

Their collective instinct about protection finally has been incorporated in government action to block a Russian arms buildup in Cuba.

BUT CUBA is only one pinpoint in Communist harrassment of the United States, its allies and their uncommitted dependents. If overt aggression occurs, it isn't likely to occur in Cuba.

Berlin is the probable place for a military showdown, if the Soviet Union really wants one.

RUSSIA DOES NOT want Cuba and its disordered economy, nor Castro, nor a war thousands of miles from home. But Russia does want surcease from close military surveillance.

It still could be assumed that it and Red China want the same things, which has been increasingly doubtful, Quemoy, Matsu and Formosa are more important than Cuba. That clash between India and Red China is more important than Cuba.

It will be a rude awakening to reality if the U.S. government and its citizens become so obsessed with Cuba that no one keeps an eye on the places where trouble could erupt next.

To Industry!

The East Liverpool area's manufacturing plants are being saluted in Industry Appreciation Week which opened today.

Arranged by the Chamber of Commerce, the event represents a cooperative effort to pay tribute to industry — the backbone of the community.

Merchants are doing their part by displaying products turned out by the various plants.

This is the first such observance in some time and is well past due. Industry too often is taken for granted. Only when financial trouble strikes and this or that plant finds it difficult to keep its head above water do we pause to reflect on what each means to the community.

The Review congratulates all of the industrial plants in the area and hopes that this week's observance may be a spur to attracting new enterprises.

By such projects as Industry Appreciation Week the community indicates a genuine interest in the plants so vital to its existence.

Visit The Schools

Beginning today, parents have another opportunity to get a firsthand look at the educational program being offered their children in the city's schools.

The occasion is the local observance of American Education Week.

Special programs have been arranged in the various buildings to better acquaint adults with the curriculum being offered.

Parents should see to it that they visit the school of their choice and learn what their youngsters are doing education-wise. American Education Week is a fitting time to broaden the relationship between school and home.

Hitting A Switch

By Truman Twill

Weeks ago I was talking to my friend from the telephone company about the new all-number "numbers."

I told him what he had been hearing from other people like me — that we had been having trouble. We mentioned articles we had read by people who felt the same way and he said yes, he knew about the articles and the telephone company wished people would understand its problem.

We told him how we tried to explain the problem to the lady we talk to on the telephone and she had laughed because we didn't sound convincing. Why, I asked my friend from the telephone company, didn't the company help its friends with an explanation that a child could understand.

We now have the information.

A child can't understand all of it, not even a grown child.

No one can understand any of it unless he understands this:

When you stick a fingertip into a hole on a telephone dial and push, the result has nothing to do with numbers or letters. You're hitting a switch.

The problem of operating a telephone system is based on combinations that can be indicated on a dial. Some of us can remember when colors were used for this. You asked for 4-5-6 Black, or 3-6-9 Red.

Mathemeticians have worked this out, relative to the operation of the telephone system, such as saving one place on the dial for getting hold of the operator. Their object is to find enough ways to spin a telephone dial to enable anyone to call anyone within answering distance of a telephone anywhere.

The only feasible way to do this is to designate combinations by numerals — bearing in mind the number of letters in the alphabet has no bearing on what happens when a telephone dial is spun. There are six letters — A, B, C, D, E, F — on Holes No. 2 and 3. But regardless of this, there are only four ways the two holes can be used to activate a switch.

You can dial the same hole twice, you can dial a hole once then the next hole and you can do this in reverse. Thus, out of what looks like 30 combinations of letters there are actually only four operating combinations of motion.

Those of us untrained to think in these terms get lost, so concentrate on this fact:

With all-number "numbers" the telephone system can use 1,216,000,000 switching combinations. The method this is supplanting—names plus digits is limited to 820 million. This isn't enough to give telephone communication room to grow in, hence the changeover to all-number "numbers."

I have tried to clear this up because of my problem with telephones. I always have been blank on telephone numbers. Even when I have them written down, I not uncommonly transpose the dialing instructions. All-number "numbers" terrified me when I first encountered them, but I saw the light.

If they had the room they could draw pictures of animals on a telephone dial and tell me to dial aardvark, baboon, cat, dog, elephant, fox, giraffe. Or they could put in colors and tell me to dial red, green, yellow, orange, black, purple and magenta. But it works out a lot better with numerals because everybody knows numbers.

Any questions? If so, the telephone company does have the answers; I've learned that much.

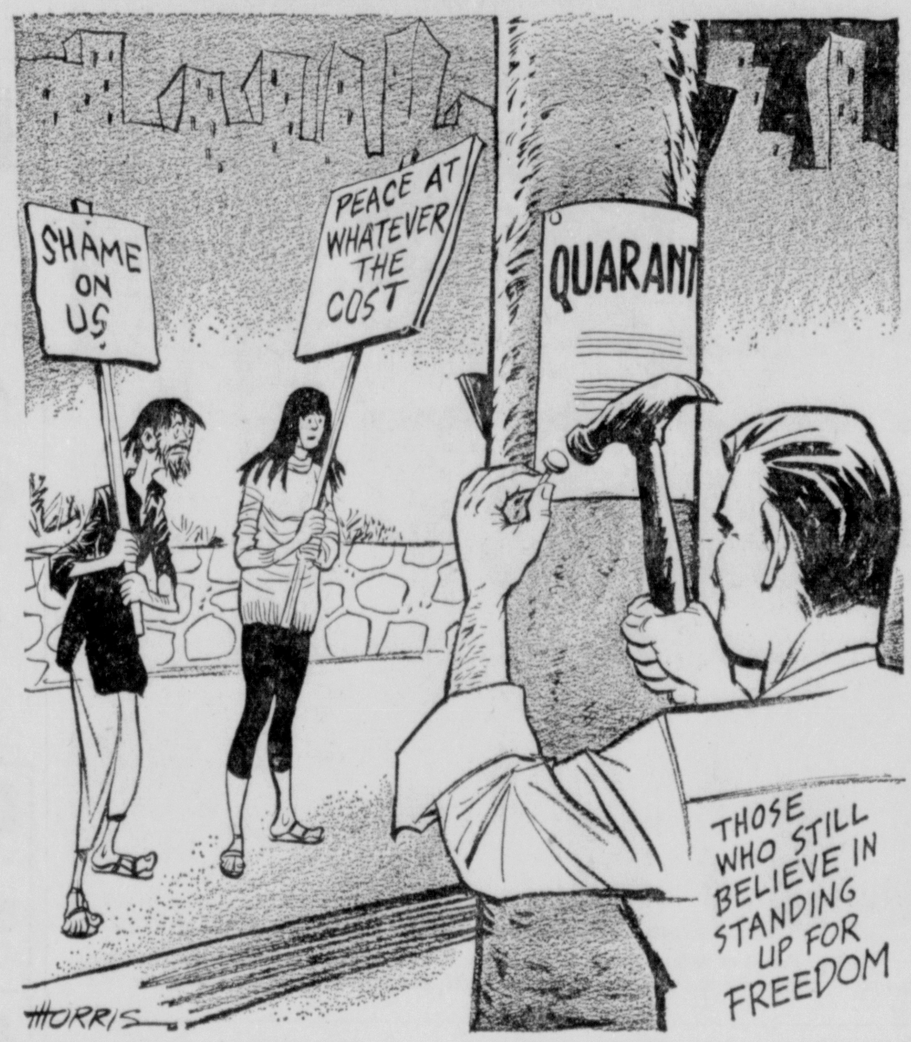

This And That

Today's popular game of poker in the United States was first mentioned in print in the "Reformed Gambler", by Green. This contains a description of the game of poker on the river steamer in 1834.

Penny-ante neighborhood investment clubs are becoming big business in the U.S., now numbering about 35,000 individual clubs throughout the nation, with about 500,000 members and close to $500 million in capital.

There are more than 2,400,000 Americans 45 years of age or older now taking educational courses, according to figures issued by the U.S. Office of Education.

Sick, Sick, Sick!

Wirtz Alters Department's Policy

Victor Riesel

No ghost talks when Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz speaks. He writes his own speeches—in longhand. At this he's a master, for back in '52 he headed Adlai Stevenson's speech - writing division.

Victor Riesel

And what's vital in all this is that even insiders have been asking just what is Mr. Wirtz going to say in the key cabinet post Arthur Goldberg stepped from a month ago?

On what Secretary Wirtz will say and do will depend the outcome of the clangorous clashing of enormous forces—such as the final showdown of railroads and rail unions early next year.

Whats the meaning, people ask, of the quietude which has slipped over the Labor Department which Arthur Goldberg made so powerful with his thunder and swift airplane and helicopter flights, with his dramatic personal intervention, with his thousands of personal phone calls.

DOES THIS quiet man, Willard Wirtz, 50-year-old professorial, letter - of - the - law policy maker, plan to pull the government out of the hectic infighting inside labor - management circles into which Arthur Goldberg hurled it?

Tens of thousands of labor leaders and business executives want that answer.

The answer is that under Willard Wirtz' administration, the secretary of labor will extricate himself from direct negotiations. The era during which many national labor leaders refused to settle a strike unless the labor secretary intervened personally is over.

THE SECRETARY and the President will move in only in the most extreme emergencies. Such an emergency will develop, some of us believe, in the rail crisis next year. At that time it can be expected that the threatened strike will stir tumultuous demands on Congress to pass emergency compulsory arbitration legislation.

Those who have grown accustomed in the past 20 months to using personal channels to Arthur Goldberg now will have to use the government's official channels, the mediation boards and services.

Those who observed closely become aware of this policy shortly after Wirtz took over active direction of the Labor Department.

His first few weeks as a member of the cabinet of the President of the U.S.A. were spent in a series of chain meetings on the Chicago and North Western crisis. Mr. Wirtz found himself working even on the commas and grammar of the agreement between the telegraphers and the rail line.

THIS MEANT that a presidential advisor was forced to spend his first weeks on just one dispute, instead of devoting himself to major policy.

Then came the two-day machinists' strike against the Aerojet-General Corp., maker of power parts for missiles and other vital space defense equipment.

Again the new secretary went round the clock—literally went sleepless for 36 hours. Wirtz did the policy work. He was aided considerably by the Federal Mediation Service, headed by William Simkin.

When the strike ended the news came from this Mediation Service. Not from the office of the secretary of labor. Under Arthur Goldberg's aegis the news would have come dramatically from the Labor Department or perhaps the White House.

This was Arthur Goldberg's way for far more than personal reasons.

What Mr. Goldberg did was to dramatize most clearly a policy of identity between the government and industrial-labor crises.

HE CREATED the third man theme, the public's seat at the bargaining table. It was he who adopted this new policy. He established it with the help of the President on one hand and his undersecretary, Willard Wirtz on the other.

There came the point at which he had put the policy on an operating and institutional basis.

Goldberg dramatized so effectively the "public interest" at the labor-management bargaining table that the country believed he intervened in hundreds of strike crises. Actually he got into 31 out of thousands of stoppages. And half of those into which he whirled involved transportation.

In most of these Willard Wirtz was alongside Mr. Goldberg. He helped develop the old thunderous policy.

Things will be quieter now. But not because topside will be dozing. Mr. Wirtz will be watching. But he won't be dashing in until every other force inside labor and management has been exhausted—including the union and business chiefs in endless bargaining sessions.

Illusion Of Peace

By James Marlow

New Trouble Looms In Cuba, Latin America

WASHINGTON

Premier Khrushchev's backdown on Cuba gives President Kennedy a victory but any appearance of peace is illusory and temporary, for Cuba and elsewhere.

Nevertheless, some of the Soviet and Cuban actions in this crisis look stupid if not nutty. The biggest unanswered question still is: Why did Khrushchev decide to put missile bases in Cuba in the first place?

He took the shock out of the crisis Sunday with his astonishingly mild agreement to pull his missiles out. But that doesn't solve the problem of Fidel Castro.

As if to prove peace is a dream, this happened: Just a few hours after Khrushchev said he'd back up, from Venezuela The Associated Press reported saboteurs, believed to be Castro followers, blew up enough power stations to knock out a sixth of the country's oil production.

A Havana radio signal instructing Venezuelan Communists to take action against the oil fields there was heard by U.S. and Venezuelan government sources. Radio Havana was reported calling openly for an insurrection in Honduras.

This, coming on the heels of Khrushchev's protest against any interference with the Cuban people, makes no sense unless it can be interpreted as Castro's way of showing that, even without Soviet missiles, he intends to be a menace.

From Miami The Associated Press reported Cuban exile leaders shrugged at Khrushchev's decision to withdraw the missiles and proceeded with their anti-Castro business.

Revolutionary Council President Jose Miro Cardona said: "The council is continuing its struggle for overthrow of the Communist dictatorship."

Khrushchev, if only to avoid the demoralizing effect on other Latin-American Communists that abandoning Castro would mean, will have to keep him in business with arms and supplies, if not missiles.

And the United States, which has kept alive the hope of Cuban refugees that they someday will be able to throw Castro out, can hardly change course on that.

Sooner or later, therefore, Castro should be involved actively or passively in new explosions, and all the withdrawal of the missiles may mean is that the United States won't be in danger of nuclear attack.

It's possible that Castro — sold down the river by Khrushchev on the missiles, at least, to avoid war with the United States—may be bounced by his own followers in Cuba. That looks like a long shot now.

Meanwhile, the Russians, who were expected to create a crisis over Berlin before year's end, are still in a position to do that.

Khrushchev so far as is known put no price tag on his agreement to take his missiles back home. That doesn't mean he won't spring one later. For instance, by again demanding that the United States remove its missiles from Turkey.

Kennedy wouldn't buy that one when Khrushchev proposed it Saturday as a swap for his taking his missiles out of Cuba. Then Khrushchev dropped the demand.

But the United States, in the eyes of the non-Allied world, can hardly claim more justification for having missiles in Turkey, right next to the Soviet Union than Khrushchev could for putting missiles in Cuba, 90 miles from America.

Since he withdrew his, to avoid a war, he may get a lot of non-Allied support around the world if, sooner or later, he demands that the United States return the compliment in Turkey.

It's hard to think Khrushchev put missiles in Cuba on impulse, assuming the United States would not detect them and that they later could be used to blackmail and blackjack this country in any showdown Khrushchev started.

In the first place, this would have had to be a high-policy decision in the Kremlin since it so deeply involved Soviet foreign policy. Second, the Russians know this country keeps Cuba under constant observation and would therefore discover the missiles.

It's possible Khrushchev thought that even if the missiles in Cuba were discovered, Kennedy would not have the nerve to force a showdown. This would have been a reckless gamble.

But looked at from any angle —in view of Khrushchev's backdown—the operation was stupid unless possibly Khrushchev had banked on something like this: That even if Kennedy forced a showdown, the President's fear of starting a war might have induced him to agree to a compromise with Khrushchev on something else Khrushchev wanted badly.

Public Opinion On Cuba

By Raymond Moley

The military and political consequences, even the immediate ones, of the President's seven-point Cuban program are incalculable. Consequently this commentator has no predictions to offer. But I believe it is clear that those people, including the President, who were trying to keep this issue out of the political campaign were far off the mark.

This Cuban affair has been a valid issue ever since the tragic invasion 18 months ago. It has been the major issue since the Americans learned from the press, not the Administration, of the Soviet take-over. That was during the summer.

A great fear then spread over the land. This apprehension made what the President was saying about medicare and candidates seem unrealistic and incongruous.

PERHAPS former President Eisenhower was aware of the impending crisis when he said the Republicans should not make an issue of Cuba. If so, he spoke from knowledge. If not, his advice was unwise. For all over the country leaders of his party have stressed the matter with the enthusiastic approval of the people who listened to them.

Those leaders knew at least three months ago that there was a real and present danger and they demanded action of some kind.

In this instance the public, so often wrong in the past, was absolutely right. In 1898, when we went to war for Cuba, public opinion, whipped up by an irresponsible press, was wrong.

President McKinley most reluctantly called for war under the pressure of Congress and certain members of his administration. "Remember the Maine" was the slogan.

There was then and is now no proof that the Spanish had blown up our battleship. Even McKinley's great friend Sen. Mark Hanna opposed going to war. But as Margaret Leach shows in her fine book, "In the Days of McKinley," Congress would have declared war in any event even if McKinley had not asked for it.

THE CIRCUMSTANCES were different in 1917 and 1941. The public and the Congress were divided on both of those occasions. The peril to us from Germany was remote and debatable.

Wilson watched and waited until Germany threatened our maritime rights and then he justified intervention on the idealistic ground that we should make the world "safe for democracy." That was a dream that never came true.

In 1940 and 1941, Roosevelt hesitated until Pearl Harbor left no other course than to accept war.

But in this instance there has been no hysteria in the press and only occasionally irrational demands in the press for direct military action. But the American people who were capable of making a judgment demanded action of some kind to frustrate the Soviet build-up.

Americans do not equate what happens in Cuba with what happens in the Far East or Eastern Europe or even Berlin. Cuba is within the very close perimeter of our interests. For more than a century it has been a major concern to us.

THE EFFECT of this action by the President on the political campaign cannot be predicted. However, Republican candidates can and will continue to say that the action was long overdue and that earlier measures would have effectively prevented the establishment of the offensive power which is now in Cuba.

They can also claim that it was their insistent demands that moved the President to action at this time.

Therefore there will be no complete moratorium on any discussion of the matter by candidates. For in this instance the public, not the President, made the issue, and it is now for the voters to register the final judgment.

But all of us will back the President in serving notice on the Kremlin that we are prepared militarily and psychologically for anything that may come of this crisis.

head, her daughter, Cynthia Young, 5, who is in "satisfactory" condition with contusions of the nose, mouth and right forearm, and McDonal, who is "fairly good" with possible fractures of the ribs and shoulder.

Shannon Young was treated for contusions of the left arm and ribs, while his brother, Clinton Young, 23, also of Brunswick, suffered contusions and a possible injury of the left foot.

The other Young children injured were Shannon Jr., 13, contusions of the right and left legs and forehead; Richard, 10, contusions of the left leg and nose, and Barbara, 2, lacerations of the lower lip and contusions of the forehead.

Welch suffered contusions of the left wrist and chest. Miss Conklin suffered contusions of the chest. Welch's son, Jay, 13, was treated for contusions of the right forehead, and his daughter, Jeanette, 15, received contusions of the right jaw.

McDonal is due for a Municipal Court hearing on the reckless driving charge when he is released from the hospital.

Two more weekend mishaps were reported, involving damage to a parked auto and a fire hydrant, plice said.

An auto owned by Archie D. Hyde, 728 Oak St., drifted away from a parking place on Minerva St. Saturday at 1:46 p. m. and struck a fire hydrant near the entrance to the parking lot of the Loblaw, Inc., market, police said.

Hyde told police he parked the car on Minerva St. about 40 feet west of Avondale St., then walked across the street to mail a letter. The car drifted downgrade about 250 yards before striking the fire hydrant, police said. The entire front of the car was damaged, officers reported.

A crash at 3:48 a.m. Sunday on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." damaged a 1960 model sedan driven by Herman C. Miller, 22, of 1545 Lisbon St. and a parked auto owned by William Anthony, 472½ Mulberry St., police said.

Miller said he was headed west when he tried to avoid striking a dog, lost control and hit the parked car.

There was damage to the right front and rear of the Miller car and the right front fender and headlight of the Anthony car, police said.

The right front of a 1957 auto operated by Lowry H. Marshall, 344 Grant St., was damaged heavily shortly before 9 a. m. today when he lost control on Pennsylvania Ave. and his car crashed into a utility pole near Elm St., police said.

Marshall told officers he was headed east about 25 miles an hour when a cup of coffee sitting on a raised section of the floor started to tip over. The motorist said he grabbed for the coffee and lost control of the auto.

tain that aerial surveillance will be continued over Cuba to make sure there is no new sneak try at setting up ballistic missiles pointed toward the United States.

Authorities said the 14,000 Air Force Reservists who went on active duty Saturday probably will be kept in service for the time being.

The Pentagon announcement Saturday night that the Reservists were being called up to man troop-carrying planes hinted very strongly at a possible invasion.

Officials believe the significance of this pointed announcement—together with a declaration that appropriate measures will be taken to insure that U.S. reconnaissance aircraft are protected—was not lost on the Kremlin.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio individuals and business contributed almost exactly 6 per cent of all federal internal revenue in fiscal 1962, according to figures released today.

The Ohio total was $5.66 billion against a national total of $99.44 billion.

Ohio's total was exceeded by New York, California, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Michigan.

the United States would not invade Cuba.

American diplomats focused on working out arrangements for U.N. inspection of the withdrawal from Cuba of the "grim weapons" which Khrushchev, under threat of forceful U.S. action, dramatically announced he would ship back to the Soviet Union.

U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant arranged to fly to Cuba Tuesday. The U.S. hope is that he can take with him a workable inspection plan to present to Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Khrushchev sent Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetsov to New York to negotiate. He said on his arrival Sunday night, "We are sure peace can be achieved if all parties concerned will exercise good will and a reasonable approach."

Militarily, the U.S. Navy marked time while Soviet ships once headed for Cuba stayed from two to three days' sailing time away. The State Department announced that while the quarantine against offensive weapons shipments to Cuba continues, it expects no interceptions by the U.S. blockaders.

Washington authorities said they did not know at the moment whether the building of Soviet missile sites in Cuba—reported proceeding at a rapid pace Saturday—had stopped. They figured speedy dispatch of a U.N. team to Cuba would help check that.

Removal of the rockets and jet bombers which the Soviet Union has been shipping to Cuba is the prime U.S. goal.

Khrushchev agreed to de-fuse the missile bases in a letter to Kennedy made public Sunday morning in Moscow. The Soviet leader said "the interests of peace" guided his decision.

Obviously eager to match his adversary's conciliatory tone, Kennedy issued a public statement praising Khrushchev's decision as statesmanlike and as "an important and constructive contribution to peace." In a quick reply to the premier, Kennedy said Khrushchev had made possible "a step back from danger."

This historic exchange climaxed a week of nerve-jangling events.

Kennedy stuck to his main point —the nuclear missile buildup in Cuba would have to be removed before there could be "sensible negotiation" on a peaceful settlement of the crisis.

On the military front, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced that more than 14,000 Air Force reservists, mostly in units used to airlift troops for combat, would be called to active duty.

McNamara's announcement Saturday night followed a Pentagon report that an unarmed U.S. reconnaissance plane was missing as a result of Cuban antiaircraft fire. The pilot was identified as Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr., 35, of Greenville, S. C.

The tension-filled week was climaxed with Khrushchev's latest letter, meeting the basic U.S. demand and suggesting United Nations supervision. The Soviet leader also proposed discussions on arms reductions, including armaments of the rival North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communist Warsaw Pact group, and talks on easing other cold war tensions. He omitted any mention of a deal involving U.S. bases in Turkey.

About the only controversial note was a charge that a U.S. reconnaissance plane had violated Soviet air space in Asia Sunday.

Kennedy acknowledged the straying of the plane, but said it was due to a serious navigational error. "I regret this incident and will see to it that every precaution is taken to prevent recurrance," the President told Khrushchev.

Pending solid evidence that the missile bases will be torn down, the aerial surveillance of Cuba continued.

Authorities here do not regard a Cuban settlement as foreshadowing any letup in Red pressures elsewhere. They still expect, for instance, that Moscow may heat up the Berlin issue to crisis proportions over the next few months.

Castro issued a five-point series of demands Sunday including U.S. withdrawal from the big American naval base at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba.

Voters Launch Rush To Get Early Ballots

An 11th hour rush has spurred applications for civilian absentee ballots for the Nov. 6 general election, the County Election Board said today.

The board has issued 360 civilian absentee ballots so far, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said, but the figure is more than 100 shy of the 479 distributed to absentee voters in the last comparable election four years ago.

O'Hanlon said he deadline for issuing the absentee ballots is Thursday at 4 p. m. They must be back in the board's hands by noon Friday to be counted to the polls, he said.

In addition, the board has issued 156 ballots for personnel serving in the armed forces. The so-called "soldier ballots" can be issued until noon Saturday and will be accepted for voting until noon on Election Day, he said.

Hancock Ruritan Unit Will Receive Charter

A newly - organized Ruritan Club for the Northern Hancock County area will receive its charter at a banquet tonight at 7 at the Pughtown Presbyterian Church.

Election of officers also will be held, according to Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

Guests will include Floyd Lower of Lisbon, national Ruritan president; James Baxter of Salem, district governor, Ralph Snyder of North Georgetown, lieutenant governor, and Richard Brian, president of the East Liverpool-Calcutta club.

Donald Glenn of State Route 2 near Chester has been serving as temporary chairman of the new club.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make my own blackboards?

A. You can fashion your own blackboards on smooth plastered walls or shellacked wooden panels by applying several coats of the following paint: Fine lampblack, two ounces, mixed with fine pumice stone, eight ounces, and boiled linseed oil, 16 ounces. To this, add enough turpentine to make four pints. Let the surface dry, and sand it smooth between coats.

Q. How can I get longer life from candles?

A. Your candles will burn considerably longer if they are given a coating of shellac, which tends to retain the molten wax around the wick, instead of its running down the sides of the candle.

Q. How can I make my own putty?

A. By mixing some linseed oil and sifted whiting to the proper consistency.

U.S. Shows Deficit Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. balance of payments deficit registered a threefold increase in the July-September quarter, reaching an annual rate of $2.6 billion.

The sharp step-up from the April-June rate of $872 million was attributed largely to a quick reversal of the large flow of capital from Canada that helped reduce the U.S. payments deficit earlier in the year.

Although Treasury officials had said there was a third-quarter increase in the deficit, the first accounting came today in a report issued by the Federal Reserve Board.

The lead article in the October Federal Reserve Bulletin said the deficit rate in the first nine months of the year was about $1.8 billion, based on preliminary estimates.

No third-quarter rate was given but the $2.6-billion figure was easily calculated from what was known about capital movements earlier in the year.

The payments deficit represents the difference between the amount that Americans spend, lend and invest abroad and the lesser amount received from foreign sources. Deficits give foreigners extra dollars which they may use to buy American gold.

On Thursday, the reserve board reported foreign purchases of another $50 million of gold, which reduced the U.S. supply to a new 23-year low of $16 billion.

Despite the third-quarter setback in government efforts to eliminate the payments deficit, officials said they remain optimistic that the long-standing problem can be solved in the next year or two.

Bottle Summons Congressman In Crisis Over Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bottle fished from the sea summoned Rep. Hale Boggs, the assistant Democratic leader in the House, to last Monday's meeting with President Kennedy on the Cuban crisis.

The Louisianan, recalling the novel message, gave this account:

"I was 30 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico on a boat. About that time a plane started circling, an Air Force plane, and came right down. I looked down . . . a bottle was ejected from the plane and we fished it out of the water.

"It took us a little while . . . it was a plastic bottle and was floating on the sea, and we were so nervous we couldn't get it out. We had to cut it open with a knife."

The note inside the bottle said "Call Operator 18, Washington. Urgent message from the President." The signature, Boggs said, was that of presidential assistant Larry O'Brien, whose White House job is liaison with Congress members.

Boggs was one of 20 top congressional leaders who attended the session with Kennedy.

Church Group Hits At Gambling

Delegates to the 93rd convention of West Virginia Christian Churches headed homeward from Chester Sunday after adopting 13 resolutions, including a strongly-worded admonition against gambling and a decision to oppose the liquor-by-the-drink amendment on which their state will vote at the Nov. 6 general election.

The resolutions ranged the spectrum from internal church affairs to others in opposition to war and nuclear testing and favoring "voluntary, non-denominational prayer and meditation" in public schools. The convention met at the Chester First Christian Church.

THE RESOLUTION on gambling said that the evils of racketeer and syndicate gaming are generally condemned, but "many fail to recognize the corruption of moral standards and values inherent in widespread petty gambling."

As forms of "petty gambling," the resolution cited "pinball machines, raffles, athletic pools, matching and pitching coins and other games of chance which are widely practiced, often in the name of charity, many times by church members and highly respected citizens of the community."

The church group affirmed its position that "all gambling is evil" and declared that "these so-called smaller gambling practices lead to and feed the more serious forms of this social evil which results in a breakdown of personal moral standards and the corruption of government."

ENACTMENT of the liquor-by-the-drink amendment would lead to sale of whisky by the shot "in more than 1,900 outlets, additional and supplemental to the already existing package outlets," the resolution declared.

"Temperance, social betterment and respect for law" should be the prime objectives of any system of alcohol control, the resolution said, adding that they "will be greatly depreciated by the sale of liquor by the drink."

It termed the sale of liquor over the bar as "a step backward in the control of alcoholism," adding it would cause increased "social problems."

The resolution asked the church membership to vote against the referendum and "to give active opposition to its passage prior to election day."

WITH AN eye to the international crisis, the convention reaffirmed its opposition to a war as a means of solving problems, advocating worldwide total disarmament and abolishment of nuclear testing.

In its resolution on prayer in the public schools, the convention said it believes "there has been some misunderstanding of the Supreme Court's ban against voluntary repitition of an officially-written prayer in public schools." It said "each one should have the right to worship as he chooses and to bring up his children to realize the value of religious standards of conduct."

ANOTHER resolution commended the state for the "quiet and orderly manner in which it is moving toward the desirable goal of a peaceful multi-racial society. . ."

It added that the church will consider the race problem "not a chore to be faced with dread, but rather another means of witnessing to the truth of Jesus' words. . ."

A resolution thanked the Chester, Newell and Pughtown churches for acting as hosts to the convention and another thanked the Chester Church and its minister, Earliss Gleaton, for offering the facilities of the Chester Church as a place for meetings and displays. Another commended The Review for its "excellent coverage" of the convention.

STATE CHURCH HEAD. The Rev. James A. Cox, minister of the Central Christian Church of Huntington, was installed Sunday as president of the West Virginia Christian Churches as the 93rd annual convention drew to a close at Chester. He is shown above conferring with Mrs. Harry Shaw of the Chester First Christian Church, left, who was in charge of local arrangements for the meeting, and Mrs. Ronald Hassig of New Martinsville, second vice president of the state organization.

Carrigg Belittles Hays Position On Cuban Blockade

John J. Carrigg, Republican candidate for congressmen from Ohio's 18th District, Saturday night described his opponent, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, as "a Johnnie-come-lately" in his stand against Cuba.

Addressing the Jefferson County Chapter of the Ohio Republican Council in Steubenville, Carrigg said that "it is interesting to note that Mr. Hays has gone a full circle in his pronouncements concerning this grave matter."

Carrigg said that several weeks ago Hays accused those who advocated strong action against Cuba as being reckless and irresponsible.

"Now Mr. Hays says that '. . . . the United States has no recourse but to go in and neutralize things," Carrigg said.

He said that since Hays now talks as though he originated the strong stand policy against Cuba, "it is time to set the record straight."

been asked to supply arms. The feeling here is that only the United States can provide the amount of weapons needed.

Galbraith delivered to Nehru a letter from President Kennedy expressing sympathy for India in its present emergency and "something more tangible," the spokesman said. In response Nehru made the first direct request for American arms.

Details of weapons needed are now being discussed with Indian military men, the spokesman said.

If the line at Se Pass does not hold, the next stand for the beleaguered Indians probably would be at Bomdila, last important pass on the way to the Assam Plains.

A fair road connects Bomdila with the plains, enabling the Indian army to bring up light tanks and overcome a supply weakness partly responsible for some of the steady reverses of the nine-day-old border war.

Hard fighting also was indicated on the Ladakh front, some 850 miles westward along the jagged Himalayan frontier. The Indians said one post was lost there when the Chinese opened an attack around Demchok in overwhelming numbers with rapid-firing weapons.

The battleground there is nearly three miles high. Demchok is close to the undefined border of Kashmir, and the attack constitutes the farthest southward Chinese thrust in the western sector.

Local Delegation Attends Regional Program Of UJA

A delegation of eight from East Liverpool attended the Tri-State Region United Jewish Appeal luncheon Sunday at Webster Hall Hotel in Pittsburgh. About 350 attended.

They included Dr. J. W. Schoolnic, Judge Samuel Chertoff, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Turk, Richard Feldman, Mrs. Martin Silverman and Dr. and Mrs. Alex S. Fisher.

Delegates attended from the 83 Jewish communities in the Tri-State area, comprising Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Eastern Ohio and parts of Kentucky and Maryland.

Speakers were Gov. David L. Lawrence, who visited Israel on several occasions; Ambassador Katriel Katz, consul general of Israel in New York, and Miss Gila Golan, the Israeli beauty queen who was runner-up to the winner in the Miss Universe contest in 1960. Miss Golan was saved from the Nazi halocaust by a Polish family and later sent to Israel.

The East Liverpool Jewish Federation and United Jewish Appeal campaign will be launched with a brunch Nov. 11 at 12:30 p. m. at the B'Nai Israel Temple. Mrs. Charles Schulman of New York will be the guest speaker.

Halloween Party Set For Chester

The Chester community Halloween party will be held Wednesday beginning at 7 p. m. with a parade and followed by a street dance.

There will be treats and costume prizes. The parade of Halloweeners in costumes, led by the Chester High School Band, will form at the high school at 6th St. and Indiana Ave., and move down 6th St. and west on Carolina Ave. to 4th St.

The free street dance will be held on 4th St., which will be blocked off from Carolina Ave. to Church Alley. Treats will be given and prizes will be awarded for best costumes.

In case of rain or cold weather, the party will be held in the City Hall auditorium. The event is being sponsored by the Chester volunteer firemen, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6450, American Legion Post 121, the Lions Club and Kiwanis Club. George Allison of the fire department is general chairman.

Proceeds from a lunch stand will be used for fire equipment.

Applications Continue For Kyes Home Posts

LISBON — Applications still are being taken for the posts of superintendent and matron at the Kyes Memorial Home in East Palestine, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director.

Several applications have been received and now are being investigated.

The home was closed Jan. 1 by the county commissioners, who said it was too expensive to operate and they didn't have the funds. Since that time they set up a Civil Service examination for the jobs but those taking the state examination were not certified, and the home has remained closed.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I save time in the labeling of jars of canned foods?

A. Instead of labeling each individual jar of preserves or jellies, make some compartments along your shelves, then label each compartment. This will save lots of time and trouble.

Q. What is a good way for warming leftover meats?

A. Place them in a pressure cooker and add three tablespoons of water. Let the steam build up to the starting point, remove from the fire, and let the pressure go down.

Q. How can I make lighter biscuits?

A. Add just enough liquid to make a soft dough. Then mix it lightly, and just enough to combine the flour and liquid. Any handling after that has a tendency to toughen the dough.

Corak Seeks Dismissal Of Vote Charges

Beaver County Judge Morgan Sohn has set Friday for the state to show cause why a charge of an election violation against Eli Corak of Midland, county Democratic chairman, should not be quashed.

Corak also is mayor of Midland and a county commissioner. The law firm of Suffoletta and Masters of Midland filed a motion in county court this morning asking that a charge by William Kovolenko of Aliquippa be quashed.

The charge was filed Oct. 22 before Justice of the Peace John Ayoob of Aliquippa. Corak posted a $500 bond and waived the case directly to court.

Attorneys for Corak said the information against him was insufficient and inadequate and charges him with two offenses with no essential element of each, and is defective, failing to give definite and sufficient information on which he might prepare his defense and protect himself against a second prosecution.

The charge concerns an election pamphlet that was not signed.

Deaths and Funerals

Irondale Man Claimed At 76

Stephen Willis Frampton, 76, of Irondale, a retired stationary engineer for the Larson Clay Co. in Toronto, died suddenly of a heart attack Saturday at 3:40 p. m. at his home.

He was born in Hue, Vinton County, Sept. 20, 1886, to the late Kendall H. Frampton and Suzanna Clark Frampton. He lived in Irondale 46 years. He was a member of the Irondale Odd Fellows Lodge for many years. When it was dissolved a few years ago he became a member of the East Liverpool lodge.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Olive Milstead Frampton, at home; five daughters, Mrs. Dan McDonald, Mrs. Lorin States and Mrs. James W. Hamilton, all of East Liverpool, Mrs. Eugene A. Dickins of Franklin Park, N. J., and Mrs. Montgomery Peterson of San Clemente, Calif.; a son, Stanley L. Frampton, of Irondale, 12 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Haugh Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. George H. Johnston, pastor of the Anderson Methodist Church, assisted by the Rev. Dean McElroy, pastor of the Irondale Methodist Church. Burial will be in Chestnut Grove Cemetery near Irondale.

Friends may call today and Tuesday up to the time of the services at the Haugh Funeral Home, where the Odd Fellows lodge will conduct services tonight at 8.

Good Reference

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When Mrs. Edward L. Roller answered a blind ad in the Courier-Journal recently, she listed her former employer as a reference. It was a good choice. The job to be filled was the same one she left 15 years ago. She got it back.

When a recipe calls for 1 1-3 cups condensed milk, you'll find a 15-ounce can holds the equivalent. Remember that condensed milk is the sweetened variety.

TRADES COUNCIL GUEST. Miles C. Stanley of Charleston, second from left, president of the West Virginia Federation of Labor, was greeted by Elmer Robinson, president of Trades and Labor Council, when he arrived Saturday night to speak to the central body's annual banquet at St. Aloysius School Hall. Looking on are Joseph A. Winters, at left, secretary-treasurer of the labor group, and Mrs. Helen Shively, chairman of the banquet committee.

Pope

Also announced was the name of an additional prelate to the liturgy commission. The Pope previously had named 8 to this commission, which has already started its work.

The other commissions will not start work until the council takes up topics in their fields. The council so far has been concentrating on liturgy, public worship.

A spokesman said the Pope decided to name an additional member so that each commission would have an uneven number of voting prelates, to prevent any possibility of a tie. The presiding cardinal has no vote.

This appeared to be part of an effort to speed up work of the council. A number of the 2,400 council fathers have expressed the opinion that the gathering—at its present pace—could last more than two years. On Saturday, the presiding committee of the council implored the fathers to be briefer in their speeches.

Liturgy is the first topic on the council agenda, and the prelates have spent a week on it, with the end not in sight.

Today the council took up debate on the eucharist, the subject of the second chapter in the eight-chapter proposed constitution on liturgy.

A communique after today's session pointed up "the deliberate slowness that has marked the council so far, reflecting freedom of expression and the depth and seriousness of study."

Anniversary Time

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. James Hudson crowded a lot of anniversaries into a short time. Their 71st wedding anniversary and Mrs. Hudson's 91st birthday occurred the same day; his 91st birthday was on the following day.

Stamps For Grades

MIAMI (AP) — Mothers of southwest Miami school students may show even more interest in their children's grades this fall. An area shopping center has offered 20 trading stamps for each "A" on a report card and 10,000 stamps for the youth with the most "As" in his grade.

Soviet

Khrushchev as the savior of peace.

First Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily V. Kuznetsov's statement in New York saying Khrushchev and the Soviet government "are sparing no effort to avert the danger of war" was quoted here.

There were similar statements from half a dozen capitals commending Khrushchev for withdrawing what he described as "grim" weapons—in other words rockets.

Only three days ago the papers were saying there were no such rockets, and that American photographs of their bases were faked. The United States was being described as one big area of hysteria.

Some Soviet citizens appeared to have only a vague idea of what had been going on during the past week. Very little of the American side of the Cuban case has been printed here.

Nevertheless most Russians appeared relieved at the peaceful turn of events.

50-Day Term Given Driver

George Allen Fetty, 22, of 843 Sophia St. was given 50 days in Hancock County Jail in lieu of fines and costs on two charges after a hearing Saturday night before Chester Mayor Harry Abrams.

The hearing had been set for Tuesday night, but was moved up. He was fined $100 and costs for driving while intoxicated and $10 and costs for having no operator's license.

His right to drive in West Virginia was suspended for six months.

He pleaded guilty to both charges. Fetty was the driver of a car which struck a Hookstown man's auto in Chester last Monday night. Charles Richards, 19, of Woodlawn Ave., apparently a passenger in the Fetty car, fled Chester City Hall and allegedly stole an auto.

Richards was bound over Friday to the January term of the Hancock County Grand Jury on a charge of auto theft.

Bethesda Church Picks Officers

MILLPORT — Officers of the church and Sunday School were elected at a congregational meeting following morning worship Sunday at the Bethesda Presbyterian Church.

Forrest Thompson and Homer Rogers were elected as elders for 1963-65 and Roger Headly, Paul Gurgle and Mrs. Laura Stewart were elected trustees for the same period.

Mrs. Adella Treffinger was returned as treasurer. Ralph Brown was re-elected as Sunday School superintendent and David Crawford was elected assistant.

Other Sunday School officers are Ernest Phillips, treasurer; Miss Shirley Rogers, secretary, and Miss Bonnie Cox, assistant secretary.

Miss Nancy Norton was elected superintendent of the children's department, with Miss Nancy McKarns to be assistant. Mrs. Dorothy Brown was returned as secretary of supplies.

Plans were discussed for a supper in December. The Rev. Boyd Burd served as moderator.

A Creole spokesman said the entire Tijuana oil field in the lake was rendered inoperable. He estimated it would take about a month to get the field back to its daily production of 525,000 barrels. Other sources said it might take as long as three months.

Informants said the government faces a serious loss of foreign exchange earned from oil royalties, Venezuela's main source of wealth. Venezuela collects about 70 per cent of the $1.2 million daily revenue from the country's oil production, the third largest in the world.

The government rushed a marine battalion to Lake Maracaibo to reinforce guards on the oil installations. Betancourt and his cabinet met in emergency session to plan stricter security measures.

President James Madison (1751-1836) was the author of the first 10 amendments to the Constitution, known as the Bill of Rights.

KICKOFF SPEAKER. Dr. George Parkinson of Canton will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Columbiana County Mental Health Association tonight at 6:30 at the Hotel Wick at Lisbon, marking the start of a fund drive for a mental health clinic. He has been minister of the Canton Christ United Presbyterian Church for 20 years.

remained in seclusion at his country home at Colombey-les-deux-Eglises where he had voted.

Many of De Gaulle's opponents thought he should remain at the helm, regardless of the vote. However, they challenged it as a mandate. They claimed that without De Gaulle's threat to resign and the Cuban crisis, the proposal would have been soundly beaten.

Far from settling things, the referendum set the stage for a constitutional dispute and further political conflict.

Senate President Gaston Monnerville planned to challenge the legality of the referendum in the Constitutional Council, supreme court for constitutional issues. Under the constitution, the referendum results cannot be proclaimed officially without council approval of the conduct of the vote.

He was born here June 21, 1930. He lived here all his life. He had been in the contracting business 10 years.

He leaves his parents, Mrs. George Harris of Ashland and Clark Kevan of East Liverpool, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Green, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Nutter, both of East Liverpool.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Lots of cooks have their own favorite recipe for date and nut bread. If yours doesn't call for adding grated orange rind, you won't go wrong by making this addition. About 1½ teaspoons of the rind will be right for a two-cup flour recipe.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing in response to the young nurse who wrote to you from the delivery room of a hospital. The nurse expressed sorrow for the little unwed mothers who were having such a rough time.

For every little unwed mother walking around there is an unwed father. But nobody even lifts an eyebrow at them. They are free to wander at will with no stigma, no shame and no responsibility. They don't have to leave school, walk with a bowed head or drop out of sight.

It is a biological impossibility for a girl to get into trouble alone. For this project she needs help.

Who are these punks whose sole concern is pleasure and self-gratification? Who are these unconscionable characters who make a game of sullying some girl's maidenhood? Where does the blame lie?

The blame lies squarely on the shoulders of the parents who failed to teach their sons that a girl is not a plaything and that self-control is part of being manly and honorable. I hope you will put this letter in your own words and print it for millions to see. — PAST 70.

-:-

Dear Past 70: Your words are quite good enough, my friend. Only the Bible has said it better. "Raise up a child in the way he should go and he will not depart from it."

Boss' Favorite

Dear Ann: We moved to this city five months ago. The move meant an important promotion for my husband. The city we now live in is the company's headquarters.

I am 28, attractive and the mother of three children. My husband and I never have had any serious troubles — until now.

The top man in this organization has taken a liking to me. He is in his 40s, good looking, sophisticated and married.

This outfit has more social get-togethers than I've ever heard of. The boss always invites me to sit next to him and makes quite a fuss over me. Whenever there is music he dances my feet off. I try to be nice, but not TOO nice, if you know what I mean.

Last night after a social evening with the big shots, my husband blew his top. He told me he didn't need to have his wife play up to the boss to get ahead. He used stronger language than I can use here, but you get the idea.

I feel terrible about this and I have no idea how to handle the problem. Can you help? — JUNIOR EXECUTIVE'S WIFE.

Dear Wife: This story is as old as the gray flannel suit. Since you realize your husband resents the attention the big boss is paying you, why not cut down the voltage on your responses? Be pleasant — but not TOO pleasant, if you know what I mean.

Etiquette Question

Dear Ann: I have a close friend who considers herself socially correct in everything. The other day I was at her home and, for the 50th time, she asked if I would like a cup of coffee? This habit of hers has always griped me, so I decided to speak up.

I told her that a hostess isn't supposed to ask a guest if she wants refreshments. She should go ahead and serve something.

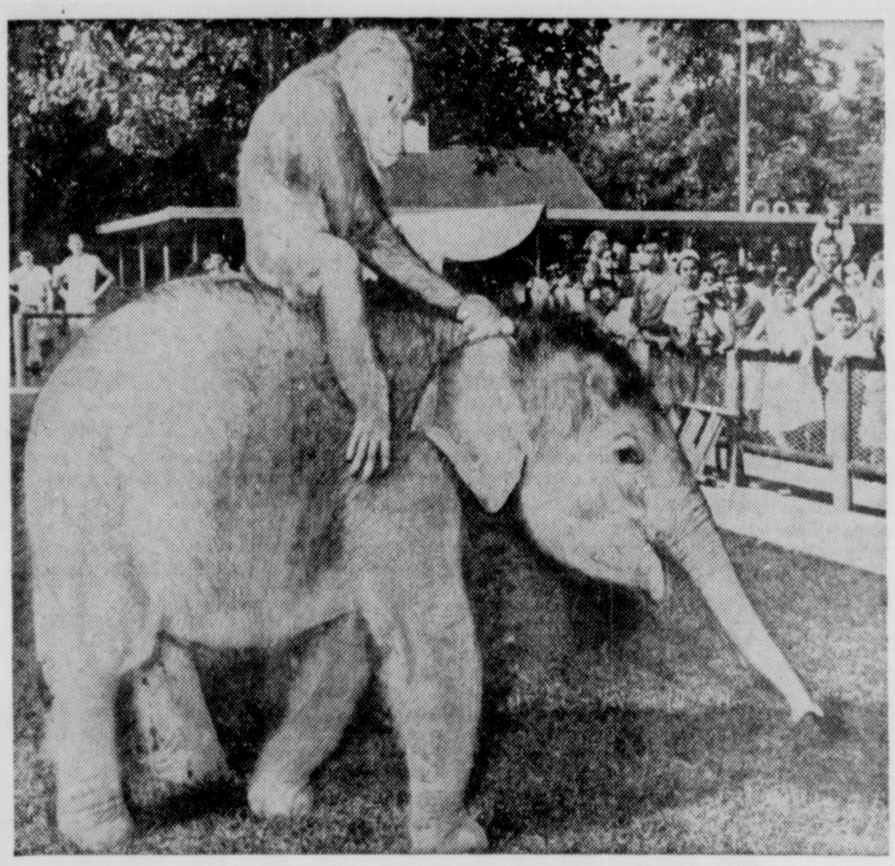

This friend informed me some people don't want refreshments and it makes no sense to go ahead without asking first.

Who is right? — WONDERING.

Dear Wondering: When a hostess asks a guest if he would like refreshments she puts the burden on the guest, which is impolite. Some guests would enjoy refreshments but they hesitate to say so because they don't wish to put the hostess to the trouble. The gracious hostess has refreshments prepared and she serves them.

A couple of teaspoons of caraway seed is about right to add to a one-pound can of sauerkraut.

ZOO CAPERS — "And no monkey business, ya hear." That's what Cookie seems to say as the six-month-old Thailand elephant gives a suspicious glance to his riding companion, Connie, the orangutan. Cookie and Connie were entertaining a large audience with their capers at the Brookfield Children's Zoo near Chicago.

Lisbon Officers Check On Mishap

LISBON — Police continued investigation today of a hit-skip crash this morning about 4:15 on E. Washington St. which left a village man's parked auto damaged.

Officers discovered the 1955 auto of Charles Kidder, 527 E. Washington St., shoved up on the curb in front of his home with the rear damaged and oil and alcohol dripping on the pavement.

The liquids and spots of blue paint were not from Kidder's auto.

Neither the car owner nor neighbors had heard a crash, Patrolman Kenneth McKenzie reported.

Cook sweet potatoes in their skins, then peel and halve. Now "candy" the yams in butter and maple syrup for a sweet partner for roast pork or ham.

Pork Termed 'Good Buy' At Lower Price

Pork supplies and prices have returned to near-normal, with wholesale prices on fresh loins and butts a bit below their levels at this time in 1961, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Loin end roasts, pork steaks and fresh pork shoulder roasts are a "fairly good" value in many area markets, Watkins said.

Ham and bacon prices will hold at present levels for a time as the product being sold now was processed during the higher price period for live hogs. Bacon prices, however, are probably 10 per cent under a year ago.

Beef supplies are steady and prices largely unchanged. Popular features are roasts and ground beef. Supplies of U. S. choice beef, the most popular for retail trade, are about the same as last year. Forecasts indicate that beef supplies may be less about the end of the year.

Grapefruit and apples provide the bulk of "specials" on fresh fruit this week. Apple varieties popular for eating are Golden and Red Delicious. McIntosh and Jonathans are good general purpose varieties. As usual the more highly colored, larger-size fruits are higher in price.

Grapes, bananas and pears are other fresh fruits in the picture. Grapes and bananas are fairly reasonable in price. Tokays are being replaced by Emperors with Thompson Seedless up in price.

Bartletts still are the most plentiful pear variety. A few of the West Coast Bose are beginning to come to market. The season on Bose and Anjou pears is just beginning.

Robert Frost Speaks At Kenyon Dedication

GAMBIER, Ohio (AP) — Poet Robert Frost mused trough his thoughts on a variety of subjects here Sunday at the dedication of the $1 million Gordon Keith Chalmers Memorial library on the Kenyon College campus.

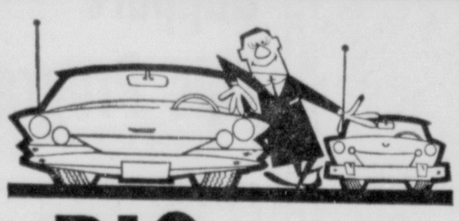

Frost was a life - long friend of the late Kenyon president for whom the library was named.

The mental age of college students should be between "liking to be told and wanting to do the telling," the poet told 600 persons atending the dedication.

Leeks, although larger than green onions (scallions), are milder in flavor than the latter.

15 Girls Seek Queen's Title

Fifteen girls from the Chester-Newell area entered the West Virginia Centennial Queen contest over the weekend by filing applications with women's clubs in the communities.

Among the contestants are four from Newell and 11 from Chester. The deadline for filing was Saturday.

Today is the deadline for queen candidates from New Cumberland and Weirton. The names of all contestants will be announced following a meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Floyd Mansfield of Neptune Ave., Chester.

The contestants will compete for the Hancock County title the evening of Nov. 17 in Weirton.

Mrs. C. E. Stetson of Weirton, county chairman, said the state centennial queen committee has advised her that all county entries will be eligible to compete in the state semi-finals in Charleston Dec. 14 under a new change in the rules.

The former rule called for the committee to select 15 girls as semi - finalists, using pictures and personality sketches in the judging.

The state winner will be decided Dec. 15. The centennial queen will reign during the state's celebration in 1963. Each of the 55 counties is to name a representative to the state contest.

Farewell Staged For Pastor, Wife

LISBON — One hundred members and friends attended a farewell reception at the First Christian Church Sunday School rooms Sunday night in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. William Spangler.

The refreshment table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered by a flower arrangement in fall colors and lighted tapers. Mrs. Robert McCamon and Miss Nellie Gillis poured from the silver service on either side of the table.

☒ ELECT JAMES A. RHODES GOVERNOR

"The Future of Ohio Depends Upon More Jobs"

Rhodes for Governor Committee, Elmer A. Keller, Chm., 1083 South High Street, Columbus, Ohio

Leading Ohio Newspapers Support This Program!

Cleveland Press

From an Editorial Tuesday, Oct. 16, 1962

The State of Ohio needs a man of action in its governor's chair.

It needs a man who can get things done, a man with a positive program and the ability and drive to carry out that program.

In his campaign for governor, Rhodes has presented several programs which sound necessary and timely and feasible.

Outstanding among them, of course, is his suggestion of a New Jobs and Industrial Development Authority. This proposal would create an authority to lend money for expansion or building of industrial plants — to stimulate Ohio's economy.

The plan struck a particularly responsive chord in Greater Cleveland, since this area is constantly searching for ways to broaden and improve its industrial base.

Rhodes is a welcome candidate to leaders of both houses of the Legislature . . . The Press believes he is the better man for the job.

Cleveland Plain Dealer

From an Editorial Sunday, Sept. 30, 1962

The Plain Dealer urges the election of James A. Rhodes as governor of Ohio.

The four years of the next governor's term will be critical ones for Ohio. The times demand strong and effective action . . . Ohio must guard zealously its position as a good State for business and industry. This means jobs for the people of Ohio — protection of present jobs and creation of new ones.

The Plain Dealer therefore supports Rhodes.

Columbus Citizen-Journal

From an Editorial Tuesday, Oct. 16, 1962

The State needs a governor who can and will work with the Legislature, in mutual respect, instead of bickering and jealousy and dissension.

The Citizen-Journal believes James A. Rhodes is that man.

In his campaign for governor, Rhodes has presented several programs . . . Outstanding among them is his suggestion for a new jobs and industrial development program to stimulate Ohio's economy.

The plan struck a responsive chord since Ohio is searching for ways to broaden and improve its industrial base.

Rhodes is . . . eager to prove himself as governor of Ohio. We believe he is the man for the job.

Warren Tribune Chronicle

From an Editorial Thursday, Oct. 11, 1962

Mr. Rhodes, in his campaign for governor, has pointed to the most pressing problems that confront the State government now, and will continue to confront it in the years ahead.

The GOP candidate recognizes that the industrial and business growth of the State depends in large measure on the climate of State government. Growth of the economy in his State . . . in recent years has slowed down. If more jobs are to be provided for our expanding population, this trend must be reversed. Mr. Rhodes has a plan that he thinks will succeed.

Ohio needs a governor who can lead . . . James A. Rhodes, we believe, will be that kind of governor.

Youngstown Vindicator

From an Editorial Monday, Oct. 15, 1962

For the next four years Ohio needs government at the top which will recognize growing requirements for services in various fields . . . The Vindicator believes that the election of James A. Rhodes to the governorship will give best promise for such a performance.

During the next four years, Ohio and its manufacturers will feel a growing impact from competition of the European Common Market countries, as well as . . . other States of the Union. More attention should be given to encouraging the State's industrial resources . . . Creation of jobs has become a major issue. In such a situation it is imperative the State government operates in harmony under leadership which will instill confidence among all kinds of people.

Mr. Rhodes' career and record give promise that he can give such direction.

Quartet 'Parade'

Capacity Crowd Hears Vocalists

A capacity crowd attended "Once Upon A Song," the third annual parade of quartets of the East Liverpool Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., presented Saturday night at Westgate School.

Dressed in drum majors' outfits, the chorus marched down the aisles and up to the stage for the opening number, "South Rampart Street Parade." Glenn Woods, director, led the group in "Give My Regards To Broadway" and "You're Nobody's Sweetheart Now." Mrs. Ann Claypool, costumed as a flapper, portrayed the dejected sweetheart.

Mrs. Bette Damaska, president, gave the welcome and introduced Joe McMullen, athletic director of the University of Akron, who was master of ceremonies.

"The Ringing Belles" of Cleveland, wearing gold metallic suits, started the quartet parade.

COMPRISED of Mae Braund, Ann Shafer, Ann Begley and Phyllis Shepard, they sang "Mood Indigo" and "Nursery Rhyme," a novelty arrangement.

Providing real Southern humor, the "South Chords" of Danville, Va., offered four comic versions of "Lamp Lighting Time In The Valley." Charlie Norton, Walter Clark, Warren Brown and Walter Caldwell form the group, which made a hit with its rendition of "Calypso" and "Muskrat Ramble."

The second half of the show opened with selections by the newly-chartered Caroll - Tones Chorus from Carrollton, dressed in red jackets and white skirts. Under the direction of Mrs. Neva Locker, they sang "Moon River" and "That Old Gal of Mine."

"THE HEATHERTONES," wearing velvet coat dresses which they initiated last week-end in Toronto, Canada, when they placed second in the international competition, sang "Wait Till The Sun Shines Nellie."

They received orchid corsages from the local SPEBSQSA Chapter, with Bob Blatchford, president, making the presentation. Comprised of Lorida Harvey, Betty Pettibon, Norma Jones and Mrs. Damaska, they also were presented with gold maple leaf bracelet charms, emblematic of Canada, with Woods speaking in behalf of the chorus.

The other male quartet on the program was "The North Chords," district finalists of Pittsburgh, who sang "My Home Town" and "The Girl that Men Forget." They are Dave Kuhlber, John Haberlein, Bill Sabina and Jim McKay.

"THE LYRICS" of Freeport, Ill., the 1961 international "Queens of Harmony," appeared in orchid sparkle cloth costumes, wearing their crowns and satin capes.

They sang "Laugh Clown Laugh," which was their winning number in competition, "Sound of Music" and "All By Myself." The quartet is comprised of Liz Speer, Lorene Eller, Diane Pauley and Sue McCoy.

Mrs. Vallie Mostoller was named "Adeline Of the Year," with the crown presented by last year's winner, Miss Jo Ann Vannoy.

For the finale, the choruses and quartets, under the direction of Mrs. Locker, sang "Let's Get Together" and "Harmonize the World."

Frank E. Davis of Baden, Pa., designed the stage settings and special lighting, which consisted of red and gold backdrops, large statues at the head of the staircases and silver and gold candelabra and chandelier.

—:—

MEMBERS OF the SPEBSQSA group serving as ushers were Howard Claypool, Jack Hile, Charles Hartenbach, Dean Manning, Sam Wolfe and Don Schussler.

About 250 attended the afterglow at the Elks Club. Mrs. Wilma Laughlin, chairman, and the committee decorated the tables with paper cup "bud vases" holding mums.

Mrs. Damaska, mistress of ceremonies, presented Woods with a gift from the group.

Mrs. Harvey was parade chairman. Others on the committee were Mrs. Hilda Edgar, Mrs. Nancy Pryor, Mrs. Marge Reed, Mrs. Ruth Rinehart and Mrs. Claypool.

'Exciting' Piano Concert Starts Civic Music Year

By CLARA HALL

Ferrante and Teicher, handsome duo-pianists, put on an exciting show for the initial concert of the season of the Tri-State Civic Music Association Sunday afternoon at Westgate School.

A standing-room-only audience greeted the artists. Beginning the program at a fast pace, they played highlights from "Carmen" (Bizet), amazing the audience with their perfect teamwork. The lively number, "Brazil" (Barroso), followed along with "Gigi" from the Broadway play and a beautiful rendition of "Reverie" (DeBussy).

In presenting an original number, "African Echoes", the recording stars hit the inside piano strings producing a variety of sounds from a bongo drum to a bass fiddle.

Along the popular vein, they offered selections from Broadway to Hollywood, including "Around The World In Eighty Days," "Seventy Six Trombones" and "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Their interpretations of concerto to themes of Greig, Rachmaninoff and Tschaikovsky pleased the audience, whose continual applause was very generous.

Deviating from the classical line, for which they were initially trained, they played "Never On Sunday," with an exchange of comedy when they cavorted on the stage but kept the number going continually.

"American Fantasy" included "Dixie," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

Arthur Ferrante and Louis Teicher added a few more capers to the program when they played "Tea for Two" as though they were "solos" with a mirror between them. Their novelty introduction of themselves took the audience by surprise.

Their versions of "Exodus" and theme for "The Apartment" which sold well over 2 million records, naturally was an audience favorite. Other selections were "West Side Story" nearing its golden record goal, "Three Coins In The Fountain" and "Misty."

The flair for comedy and expressive style in playing of Ferrante and Teicher made the lengthy program fly quickly. The autograph brigade kept the artists busy for a long time after the program.

Ernest Lowe, president, introduced the program and extended the welcome to local and out-of-town members. Dr. C. M. Mayberry and Vincent Maola arranged for the ushers, members of the band and orchestra.

Next concert is Jan. 20, when Paul Olefsky, celloist, will appear.

Decorating Tips Offered

The home can "cast a lovely light" if we do our best to brighten it and make it cozy during winter months. Some readers are doing just that as letters indicate.

Basements are being improved with color to erase dreariness, even if the room is visited only on wash day or to remove items from the freezer.

One woman writes, "We have just put an additional washroom in our basement and I thought it would be quite clever to open the basement door in our kitchen and be pleasantly greeted by a mural. The stairway is located under the upstairs stairway. I would appreciate some advice on some type of mural to put there."

If the area to be brightened is easy to be reached it could be livened with a mural such as a basket of flowers, vegetables or fruit.

There are many such motifs available in prepasted papers or vinyls. Many people cut out designs from wall papers and paste them to areas that are to be brightened, first painting the area in a color to harmonize with the adjoining room. Bright yellow, flamingo, orange or blue are all good backgrounds if other colors tie in.

"AT WHAT age should a child move out of a nursery - style bedroom decorating scheme? What are the requirements necessary to the room so that it can be used over a long period?"

A child is ready for a new look in his bedroom at about 7 years. He is beginning to read and write and could use a desk, comfortable chair and adequate light. There should be book shelves that can accommodate records and record player. A chest for toys should be selected so that it can see later service for storage. Some area should be designated for games, hobby collections and such. Children like closets with shelves where their clothes may be kept within reach.

A wardrobe should have a clothes rod that is low enough for a child to reach but adjustable for later years. A folding table, such as a bridge table, is almost indispensable to small fry, and will save rugs and bedspreads from paint spatters, etc.

"WHY IS IT men do not appreciate the romance of a fireplace if there is any work involved," writes a woman who says, "we have lived in a pretty house five years but my husband never has let us burn wood in the fireplace as he says the white brick will get smoked up and look awful. Is there a way to remove scorch marks from the brick? My children and I have decided we must use it as it is ridiculous to have a conversation group of furniture build around it, and never have the pretty glow from the fire."

A fire built properly should not leave soot stain on the brick. After a period of use a little graying of the brick may result, but usually it can be removed with soap and water or a soap pad. But even if one had to paint a small area of white brick (and I'm assuming it is all on the outer side of the fireplace) it should be well worth the effort and small expense.

"My mother says we should not wash our wooden floors but our parquet floors are dirty and badly scratched. Waxing seems to imbed the dirt even more."

A widely - known designer of small rugs, who displays them on just such a floor, advises us that he always washes his floors with a mild solution of soap and water, removing the solution with plain water and then drying the floor quickly.

When thoroughly dry he rewaxes the floor. There are some new products that make claims for cleaning and waxing floors in one application and these might lend themselves to experimentation until you find one that suits your purpose.

Elderly Show Wide Taste In Housing Aims

It is doubtful whether any other single area of the housing market has been surveyed more thoroughly than that involving so-called senior citizens.

If the surveys are to be believed, elderly persons prefer life in retirement villages or away from them, in sunny climates or not in them, in private homes or rented apartments or cooperatives — and near or away from their families.

In short, pick the point you want to prove and there is a survey that will back you up.

It may be that what all this demonstrates is that there is no single retirement market. Elderly persons have all kinds of retirement incomes and all kinds of housing needs and all kinds of housing preferences.

This explains why so many communities catering exclusively to the elderly have succeeded so well. It explains why other developments have flourished by playing down the retirement angle and concentrating on merging the older folks with the young.

The most recent study on this subject was conducted by the Architectural Department at Pratt Institute, under the direction of Prof. William Breger.

The study resulted in a very emphatic "no" to the question of whether elderly people should be isolated in newly - created communities or in and around suburbia. Prof. Breger says such isolation precludes the possibility that retirement persons might wish to spend their remaining years in the same neighborhood or community where they have lived all their life.

Nobody can argue with the use of the word "might" in that connection.

But undoubtedly there are many retirees who feel otherwise, as evidenced by the almost fantastic success of so many retirement communities in areas where there are no harsh winters.

There are enough differences of opinion, it seems, to bring smiles to the housing industry proponents of both sides.

There is one point of agreement regarding the senior citizens. Far more than young families, they know what they want in housing.

Most of them have had one or more homes in their lifetime. They know something about the advantages and disadvantages of owning homes, they have had experiences with mortgages, they know what features they want or do not want in their houses and they can pretty much tell ahead of time whether the neighborhoods will suit them.

The older folks are at one and the same time easier and harder to do business with in the buying of homes.

Give them what they want and they'll buy quicker than young couples. But they can't be talked into something "just as good".

Gilbert Flies Home; Faces Theft Charge

NEW YORK (AP) — Financier Edward M. Gilbert, who fled to Brazil after being charged with misappropriating $2 million from the E. L. Bruce hardwood flooring firm, arrived by plane today and gave himself up to a waiting U.S. marshal.

Gilbert fled to Brazil June 12. He returned voluntarily to face federal and state indictments that could cost him up to 74 years in prison and fines totaling $82,000.

After the plane touched down, Gilbert, 38, tanned and well-dressed, was taken into custody by U.S. Marshal Joseph A. Rachon. Arnold Bauman, Gilbert's attorney was at the airport.

Gilbert, who was president of E. L. Bruce Co., told newsmen in Rio de Janeiro he had taken the funds solely to help Bruce gain control of the Celotex Corp. a maker of building materials. He blamed the stock market drop of May 28 for his troubles.

Gilbert also said in Rio he had made no deals with anyone in deciding to return to the U.S. from Brazil, which has no extradition treaty with this country.

Gilbert has said that he put up all his Bruce and Celotex holdings as collateral for margin buying of Celotex stock. When the market fell, he said, he had to put up even more margin and then dug into Bruce funds.

Gilbert, hatless but wearing a well-tailored dark blue suit and blue tie, left by car with the marshal and Bauman, headed for the Federal Court House in Manhattan.

Bauman told newsmen that Gilbert "will make every effort" to make restitution of the funds.

In addition to the larceny charges, Gilbert also faces income tax liens of more than $3.4 million filed against him and his estranged wife, Rhodea, by the Internal Revenue Service.

Toll Rises To 1,000 In Hurricane's Wake

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Officials fear the death toll from last week's Hurricane Harriet may rise to nearly 1,000 in flooded areas of southern Thailand.

Six hundred bodies already have been reported recovered, and press reports said it was believed hundreds of others were being washed out to sea.

As many as 40,000 homes were destroyed in one of the three provinces hardest hit by the storm last Thursday and Friday.

Children Of Weather

GAHANNA, Ohio (AP) — There's something meteorological about the names of the two sons of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Day. The 17-month-old boy is Stormi Day, and the 2-month-old son is Raini Day. Day, who is a high school football coach and science teacher, says if Raini had been a girl, they would have used the name Windi.

Audit

cleared of the "irresponsible charges by a desperate candidate" and that he would rest his case before the voters on the inquiry report.

He said Price-Waterhouse Co. was hired in addition to the firm of Ernst and Ernst, Cleveland, to speed the investigation for which the Emergency Board provided $15,000. DiSalle said he still wants an investigation by an out-of-state firm and that he would make such a request of the board at a meeting scheduled Tuesday.

The special investigators hired by DiSalle refused to turn over to Deputy Auditor William Morris a copy of their report on which DiSalle based his charge. Morris said they may be cited for contempt under authority of the auditor's office. He claimed their refusal was an attempt to delay the investigation.

The investigators, hand-picked by DiSalle are William J. Miller, Chicago certified public accountant, and Phillip J. Pistorio of Washington, a former Internal Revenue Service employe.

David Purkey, DiSalle's legal aide, said Franklin County Common Pleas Court would be asked for an order requiring Rhodes to turn over specified records to the governor. The action was scheduled after Rhodes, office said the records could be examined but not removed.

DiSalle for the first time named a former Rhodes' examiner who, he said, described the method of alleged kickbacks.

The other investigation, by a special grand jury, on alleged influence peddling in the Liquor Department has been recessed while special counsel Adrian Fink is in Chicago gathering information.

About the DiSalle charge, Rhodes said Sunday:

"I have consistently denied the existence of any fraud whatsoever. The records involved, as all records of the office of auditor of the state, are and always have been completely and totally available to any bona fide citizen of Ohio, the press and other news media."

In Cleveland, DiSalle said Sunday night he was worried about reports of a "steady stream" of Rhodes' employes going in and out of the auditor's office Sunday.

"I have no idea what they were all doing there," the governor said, "but first thing tomorrow we're going to put our own people at that office."

Rhodes' assistants have contended rent was charged for adding machines while the machines were being purchased. The rent was applied to buying the machines and the practice was halted when the machines were paid for.

"The rental-purchase procedures used by state examiners of the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices have saved Ohio political subdivision thousands of dollars in continuing rental charges," Rhodes said.

He also released a report from International Business Machines Corp. on operations of this office. The report in part said:

"Several months ago we had the opportunity to review in detail the operations of the auditor's office in neighboring states. Ohio has possibly the lowest unit cost of warrant preparation of those states reviewed. Since the responsibilities of the auditor's office vary between states, our comparison necessarily is one of the relationship between rental and warrants produced.

"The state of Illinois, for example, prepared 350,000 warrants monthly with equipment in rental in excess of $10,000. Your staff wrote 303,234 warrants during the month of August on a total machine rental of $2,843 . . .

"This is certainly a tribute to the staff who have obtained a wealth of knowledge developing sound workable procedures that will provide a base for further expansion into candidate areas."

goes to Cuba at Prime Minister Fidel Castro's invitation.

Castro last Tuesday rejected U.N. observers in Cuba. It was assumed here Khrushchev's reversal of the Soviet position on the missile bases also reversed Castro's opposition to observers.

Kuznetsov arrived from Moscow Sunday night and told newsmen, "We are sure peace can be achieved if all parties concerned will exercise good will and a reasonable approach."

Stevenson saw Thant Sunday morning and received a letter from the secretary-general to Kennedy. Sunday night he delivered the President's reply.

The contents were kept secret. But after Stevenson's second call on Thant, a U.S. source said the central problem was that the United States still had no information that Soviet missile bases in Cuba were being dismantled as pledged by Khrushchev.

The source said the United States expected prompt action from the United Nations. Earlier, an informed diplomat reported that Stevenson told a meeting of Allied delegates Saturday the United States would bomb the missile bases unless their construction stopped soon and their dismantling was guaranteed.

Tips Are Offered On Power Sander

Question: I recently bought a power sander. The instructions that came with it were very good and I have found no trouble in operating it.

I am confused, however, by the many different kinds of abrasive materials that can be used with the sander. Can you tell me something about them?

Answer: The oldest and cheapest type of abrasive is flint. It is generally used for removing paint and other heavy-duty jobs. Garnet is extremely hard and is used mostly for finishing wood, Aluminum oxide — a synthetic — is a good, all - purpose abrasive. Silicon carbide is excellent for plastics, glass and ceramics.

Just as important as the types of abrasives are the grit sizes. All were numbered years ago, but now usually are classified by such terms as coarse, medium and fine.

The closer you get to the finishing coat on a piece of stock, the more vital it is that the abrasive be of the fine or very fine variety.

Thus, if you were preparing a rough piece of wood for a varnish finish, you might start by sanding with a coarse abrasive, go over it a second time with medium and finish with a fine. And for the sanding between coats, it might be wise to use the finest grit obtainable.

Goodyear Announces Cuts In Vitafilm Price

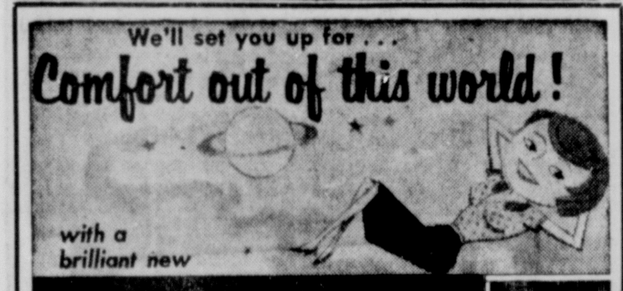

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. today announced a 20 per cent reduction in the price of 1,000-foot rolls of vitafilm.

The announcement was simultaneous with the introduction of 2,000-foot rolls of the packaging firm in both the 12 and 18-inch widths.

A. F. Thomas, sales manager of Goodyear's films and flooring division, said the price reduction was made possible by increased production, sales and manufacturing efficiency.

Steel Weighs Effects From Cuban Crisis

CLEVELAND (AP) — Effects of the Cuban crisis on steel buying will be slight provided there's no shooting war, Steel Magaine said today.

The publication said there's a good chance the Cuban situation will cause most users to reevaluate their inventories. Stocks at many plants are so close to minimum working levels now that a sudden extension of mill deliveries could halt production, Steel explained, adding:

"If the crisis deepens, military requirements will increase; mobilization plans will go into effect, and some steel products may be put on allocation.

"If our enemies start little wars all over the world in an attempt to drain our resources, the steel market will undoubtedly tighten—even in tonnage products. Users will try to build inventories before restrictions are slapped on production of consumer durables."

The market tightened rapidly after the Chinese invaded South Korea in 1950, Steel recalled, but operations were at a fairly high level when the invasion started.

With steel operations today running at less than 60 per cent of capacity nationwide, "there's no reason for panic buying," said the national weekly journal of metalworking.

Meanwhile, steel orders continued on a gradual uptrend. Steel quoted mills as saying their bookings are running 5 to 10 per cent ahead of last month's pace.

Output this week is expected to be near the 1.73 million tons that Steel estimated the industry poured last week.

Scrap dealers also are assessing the Cuban crisis, Steel said, as traders think prices will strengthen quickly if the situation deteriorates. Steel's composite on the key grade, No. 1 heavy melting, was unchanged last week at $24.67 a gross ton.

Italian Oil Czar Dies

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Enrico Mattei, 56, the Italian government oil czar, and two other persons were killed Saturday in the crash of a private plane. Mattei won world attention as the head of the government-owned National Hydrocarbon Authority. Also killed in the crash were William McHale, chief of Time magazine's Rome bureau, and Mattei' s pilot, Emerio Berutzzi.

What's In A Name?

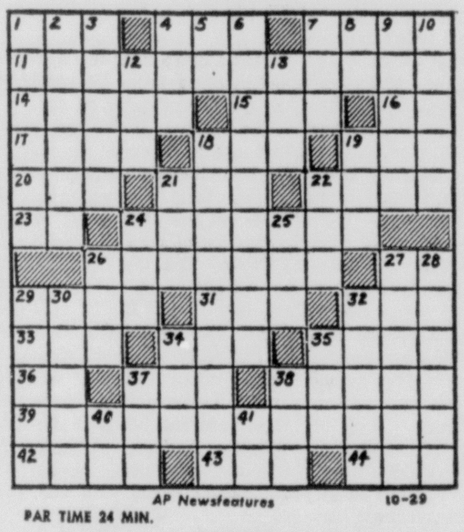

MILTON, Fla. (AP) — This northwest Florida town has a nice, solid, name, but it wasn't always so. The first settlers, possibly plagued by mosquitoes, named their community Scratch Ankle. Some years later they changed the name to Hard Scrabble. The present name was finally chosen in honor of an early settler, Milton Amos.

The lumber industry is the nation's third largest, and employs more than 1.5 million people to manufacture, process, grow, sell and use lumber and forest products.

If You're Selling A House, Make It Look Worth Price

Selling a house to the best advantage is quite an art.

Take two houses, built at the same time, both kept in moderately good repair, both in about the same type of neighborhood, and one may bring a few thousand dollars more than the other.

The answer usually is that the people who get the higher price have conformed to a few well-established rules for getting the most out of what they have to sell.

One rule is to sell a house while it is still furnished and lived in. When a house is stripped of furniture, rugs, carpets and hangings, every small defect stands out. Faded wallpaper shows where pictures once hung. Floors always show a lighter or darker border around where rugs once lay. Scuffs and wear show in hallways and the uncurtained windows look dismal.

The exterior of a house gives the first impression to a prospective purchaser. The lawn must be cut, the driveway and foot paths neatly edged and weeded and shrubs trimmed to give the best impression.

For the house itself, it is essential that there be no broken panes of glass, even though the replacement is but a matter of pennies. Shutters must be straight, doors clean and brass polished. Doormats should not be ragged.

Believe it or not, while your prospect is waiting for you to answer the bell, your front door is getting a good looking over. And all real estate experts agree that the impression a buyer gets as they approach a house and mount the steps is of paramount importance.

There is no excuse for peeling paint, fallen-out putty or rusty nailheads. A few dollars worth of paint and a few hours time may make the difference in a sale. In short, if you want to get what your house is worth, make it look worth it.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said in New York the United States must eradicate intolerance at home before it will win any struggle with the Soviet Union. Dr. Daniel L. Magic Of Y.A. Tittle Gives Giants New Hope In NFL

West Branch Sends Beavers To 3rd Straight Loss

Fumble To 28-6 Setback

The Review Sports

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1962 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 22

The combination of the running of sophomore Jack Benner and several fumbles proved too much for Beaver Local as the Beavers lost their third consecutive game of the season at Salem to West Branch by a 28-6 score Saturday night.

Even though the score indicated that the Warriors didn't have too much trouble with Coach Jack O'Rourkes charges, a Dad's Night crowd of 2,200 fans was treated to a rough rock-em sock-em football game. The ground statistics found the Beavers barely edging West Salem with a count of 166 yards to 161.

GEORGE Gaydos, who hasn't taken the back seat to any enemy ground gainer this season, watched a flashy 170-pound sophomore, Benner, rack up 103 yards ce all runners. Gaydos added 92 yards to his growing total for the 1962 season.

The game started out as if the Beavers would have little trouble adding their sixth victim as they held the Warriors on three plays and forced a punt, which Gaydos took on his own 25 yard line and returned to the 33. With Gaydos and Saltsman doing the ball carrying chores, the Beaver Local eleven moved to the West Branch 30.

Three more plays put the ball on the Warrior 24, inches short of a first down. A fourth down running play was stopped and West Branch took over.

TEN PLAYS later the Warriors had marched to the Beaver 37 as the quarter came to an end.

The Warriors added two more first downs to move the ball to the ten. The Beavers held by permitting their opponents only 4 yards on the next series to get possession of the ball.

Gaydos took the Beaver team out of the hole as he pushed the ball to the BL 14 on two plays. The next play proved to be the costly one of the night for Beaver as a charging Warrior line hit Larry McLaughlin on the 14 so hard that he fumbled. John Yeagley, Warrior right - end, fell on the bouncing pigskin on the Beaver nine - yard line.

BENNER then scored the first of three touchdowns by dashing around right end, fumbling when hit on the two by Dave Myers, and recovering the ball in the end zone as both teams battled for possession. A Gary Barber to Yeagley pass capped the play as West Branch went out in front to stay 8-0.

The Beavers fought right back on the ensuing kickoff as they marched 65 yards in 11 plays with Gaydos adding the score on a run of two yards.

West Branch capitalized on another fumble by the Beavers in the third stanza to register a 14-6 lead. Yeagley, certainly the opportunist, again fell on a Beaver Local miscue — this time on the West Branch 43. The score was tallied by Barber on a 15 yard and sweep.

The Warriors closed out the scoring with two more TD's in the fourth quarter to hand Beaver Local its worst defeat of the season. The "Busy B's for West Branch, Benner and Barber, did most of the carrying, with Benner getting the scores on runs of 15 and 5 yards.

Veteran Connects On 7 Scoring Passes In Win Over Skins

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Y. A. Tittle, a pin-point passer extraordinary, sent the title chances of the New York Giants soaring in the Eastern Division of the National Football League after a record-equaling head-shaking performance that punctured the Washington Redskins' bubble.

Tittle, bald dean of the NFL's quarterbacks at a very young 36, took apart the Redskins piece-by-piece Sunday with a display of aerial wizardry that equaled the fabled Sid Luckman's single-game record of seven touchdown passes. His efforts propelled the Giants to a resounding 49-34 victory over the previously unbeaten 'Skins.

The victory left New York with a 5-2 mark as the NFL season crossed the halfway point, but the Giants were still in second place in the Eastern Conference, behind Washington by only 86 percentage points. The Redskins have won four, lost one and have a pair of ties. Ties do not count in the final percentages.

The Giants, with Tittle's precision performances each week giving them added momentum, have the schedule on their side. Washington still must play New York again, has two games with the still-tough Pittsburgh Steelers, and one each with the Cleveland Browns, Baltimore Colts, Philadelphia Eagles and Dallas Cowboys. All but Philadelphia are rough and tumble clubs.

The Browns stayed in the Eastern Conference race by walloping Pittsburgh 41-14. Brown quarterback Jim Ninowski suffered a separated shoulder and may be out for four weeks. Green Bay kept its unbeaten record atop the Western Conference with a 17-6 victory over Baltimore. Detroit took over second place by edging the Chicago Bears, 11-3.

In other NFL games, the St. Louis Cards upset the Cowboys 28-24, Minnesota's Vikings surprised Philadelphia 31-21 and the Los Angeles Rams (1-6) upset the San Francisco 49ers (3-4) 28-14.

Tittle, in his last year of pro football before retiring to devote full time to his San Francisco insurance business, gave the Redskins pass defense a lesson they'll never forget. He completed 27 of 39 passes for 505 yards and hit end Joe Walton for three touchdowns, halfback Joe Morrison for two and nailed Del Shofner and Frank Gifford for one each.

Shofner, still suffering the effects of a shoulder separation incurred two weeks ago, was his chief target. He caught 11 passes for 269 yards.

The Packers (7-0) also relied on their defense, which halted the Colts eight times in Green Bay territory. Packer fullback Jim Taylor broke open the game with a 37-yard touchdown run following a pass interception by linebacker Ray Nitschke. Paul Hornung once again missed playing for the Packers because of an injured knee, but quarterback Bart Starr's passing, including a TD toss to McGee, was enough to beat the Colts (3-4). Dick Beilski's two field goals were all Baltimore could muster.

ELHS Cross Country Team Wins 2nd District Title

East Liverpool High's Cross Country snared its second straight District championship Saturday by nipping St. Clairsville 49-53 over a snow covered course at St. Clairsville.

Coach Frank Chan who will take his charges to the state meet at Columbus next Saturday labeled the win "a team victory all the way" since East Liverpool's first five boys finished from sixth and 13th and the other two runners finished in front of St. Clairsville's fifth man to cause them a higher score. Seven runners are permitted to represent one team.

Bruce McCoy was first home for the Potters placing sixth with Roger Linville, seventh, Curt Battestelli 11th, Dick Deem 12th and Sherman Phelps 13th.

Shepherd of St. Clairsville won the meet in 11:38. The times were slow due to the cold weather and the snow.

East Liverpool will warm up for the state meet by running against Salem which won its district. The meet is set for Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. over the East Liverpool Country Club course.

Patterson, Clark Team Up To Win Best Ball At Club

A team of Dr. H. F. Banfield, Art Carroll, Patterson and Clark took the best ball of four event with a 36-36-72 while three teams captained by Jim Laughlin, Don Burbick and Don E. Smith all tied for second with 73's.

Jim Laughlin won the prize for being closest to the pin on No. 4 while Joe Wells Jr. captured the driving contest on No. 9. Patterson was the closest to the hole on No. 6.

Eleven foursomes competed in the final day's program while awards for winners of the Hall Memorial and Club Championships were presented at a dinner following golf.

Pearson, Mills Gear Stanton Win

Brilliant 5th Victim By 32-To-16

Stanton Local High's Red Raiders spotted Brilliant a first period score, then exploded for five touchdowns in the succeeding quarters to post a 32-16 victory Saturday afternoon at Brilliant.

Coach Don McBride's Raiders (5-1-1) won their fourth straight behind a great performance by senior fullback John Pearson, who scored three touchdowns. Halfback Larry Mills tallied twice.

Brilliant went in front, 8-0, in the opening quarter on a 5-yard run by fullback LaCrosse, who also ran over the conversion.

The Raiders tied the score in the second quarter on Pearson's first touchdown, a two-yard plunge. Quarterback Scott Porter fired a pass to end Marlon McCuen for the conversion.

In the third quarter, Stanton exploded for three touchdowns to pull away to a decisive lead. Pearson blocked a Brilliant punt, picked up the ball and raced 25 yards. Mills went nine yards for another touchdown, and tallied again on a seven-yard run.

As the fourth quarter opened, Pearson broke loose for another touchdown on a run of 14 yards. Brilliant ended the scoring on a 15-yard run by LaCrosse and his conversion.

Stanton's only blemish since a 22-6 defeat in the opener to powerful Hopedale is a 16-16 tie with Wayne. Brilliant now shows a record of 1-7.

Wildcats, 'Bama, USC Rule Grid Roost After Texas, Wisconsin Fall

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama, Northwestern and Southern California stood tree-top tall today as the unchallenged giants of the gridiron following a weekend in which three members of the nation's major college football elite ran into timber—trimming buzz-saws.

Texas, holder of the No. 1 ranking for two weeks, fell from the list of unbeaten and untied teams as did another member of the top ten in The Associated Press poll —Wisconsin—on a Saturday program that left only eight major teams with perfect records.

The Longhorns were tied 14-14 by winless Rice on a late pass from Randall Kerbow to Ron Graham and Kerbow's conversion. Wisconsin, No. 5, dropped a 14-7 decision to Ohio State's bounce-back Buckeyes and Washington, No. 8, was tied by Oregon 21-21.

Alabama's Crimson Tide (6-0) continued to roll, pushing past Tulsa 35-6, Northwestern's Big Ten leaders (5-0) smashed once-mighty Notre Dame 35-6 and Southern Cal (5-0) shipped Illinois 28-16. The triumvirate was ranked 2-3-4 last week.

Five other teams remained undefeated and untied-Mississippi (5-0), Auburn (5-0), Nebraska (6-0), Dartmouth (5-) and Ohio University (6-0) — while four teams have been tied but not beaten. On that list are Texas (5-0-1), Washington (4-0-2), Louisiana State (5-0-1), Missouri (5-0-1), and Bowling Green (6-0-1).

While 'Bama, Northwestern and USC were parading their talents, a host of others were bucking for higher positions or beckoning for recognition among the elite.

LSU and Mississippi, Nos. 6 and 7, scored easily, the Tigers manhandling Florida 23-0 and Ole Miss clobbering Vanderbilt 35-0. Ninth-rated Arkansas walloped Hardin-Simmons 49-7, and No. 10 Michigan State defeated Indiana 26-8.

Auburn, clamoring for a spot in the top ten, used a last period field goal by Woody Woodall for a 17-14 triumph over Clemson. Nebraska mauled Colorado 31-6, Missouri marched over Iowa State 21-6. Dartmouth drubbed Harvard 24-6 while allowing its first touchdown and Ohio U. trampled Buffalo 41-6. Bowling Green was tied by Miami of Ohio 24-24.

That set up some key conference clashes that likely will go far toward lining up the post-season bowl rosters and settling the top ten alignment. Here's a quick rundown of the conference races:

SOUTHEASTERN — Alabama leads with 4-0 record. Auburn, which meets the Crimson Tide Dec. 1, has a 3-0 mark along with Mississippi and LSU, who meet in a crucial game Saturday night at Baton Rouge, La.

Carter's Placement Nips United In Surprise, 7-6

SALINEVILLE — Late starting Salineville came up with its second victory in as many weeks by pulling a slight surprise in a 7-6 victory over United here Saturday afternoon.

The Indians put the "foot" back into football when Jim Carter kicked the extra point which met the margin of victory for Salineville which now holds a 2-5-1 mark.

Salineville scored in the first quarter when Duane Marhefka ran 40 yards for the TD on a pass interception. The Indians defense then tightened to hold United scoreless until the fourth period when Gene Metzgar went over from three yards out.

United went for the victory but a pass for the two point conversion failed.

Salineville closes its season Friday night at Chester.

SALINEVILLE	7	0	0	0	—7
UNITED	0	0	0	6	—6

Salineville — Marhefka, 40, run. (Carter kick)

United — Metzger, 3, run (pass failed)

Dawson's Passing Carries Texans To Head Of Class

By The Associated Press

Len Dawson, a priceless piece of property who found himself a no-cash-down commodity after five years on the pro football market, has come full circle since leaving the unemployment office for a job with the Dallas Texans of the American Football League.

Dubbed "pro football's next great quarterback" when he entered the pro ranks, Dawson gathered experience and splinters in five years in the NFL, but has turned into Big D at Dallas. His passing Sunday carried the Texans to the top in the Western Division as they rode over Houston 31-7.

The former Purdue star, dubbed by Bobby Layne with the "next great" label, watched his price tag dwindle in five years of spear carrying for Layne at Pittsburgh and Milt Plum at Cleveland. Dawson says he didn't flunk the NFL test—he never took it.

"All the games I ever played in already were won or lost when I finally got off the bench," says Dawson.

Dawson passed for three touchdowns as the Texans knocked defending league champion Houston from a first-place tie with Boston in the East. The Patriots, who whipped Oakland 26-16 Friday, are 5-2 to the Oilers' 4-3.

The Texans are 6-1 in the West, a half-game in front of Denver (6-2), upended by Buffalo Sunday 45-38 on the long-range bombs of Warren Rabb. In the league's other game, New York's Titans belted San Diego's Western Division defenders 23-3.

Ryan Good Replacement In Browns' 41-14 Romp

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns was looking today for a quarterback to replace injured Jim Ninowski and, with reserve quarterback Frank Ryan, help the Browns maintain their full head of steam.

The Browns bounced back into the National Football League's title picture Sunday with a 41-14 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Ryan, who stepped in at quarterback after Ninowski suffered a dislocated left shoulder and fractured clavicle early in the second quarter, shook off initial jitters and completed 11 of 18 passes for 144 yards and two touchdowns.

The Browns' defense did an effective job of rushing Steelers' quarterback Bobby Layne, who was benched after a first half in which he hit on only five of 16 passes.

Jim Brown looked more like the Cleveland fullback of old, picking up 93 yards on 21 carries. He caught four passes for 35 yards. One was a 15-yard fling for a touchdown. Brown also scored on a one-yard plunge.

"The whole team played hard," said coach Brown after the game. "If Jim hadn't been hurt we really could be happy. It was a costly afternoon in that regard.

"You never know, though. Now we'll find out for sure about Frank. He's capable and you know he's a smart young man."

The coach said he didn't have anyone in particular in mind for quarterback insurance. Ninowski will be sidelined indefinitely, maybe for the rest of the season.

It was reported the Browns have their eye on John Furman, rookie southpaw who tried out with Cleveland and was sent to Minnesota. He didn't make the Vikings but is being kept there as an extra player.

Several other teams have third quarterbacks who might be available through waivers.

The coach had special praise for defensive end Bill Glass, obtained from Detroit along with Ninowski in the Milt Plum deal.

"Bill was quite a man out there today," Brown observed. "When people talk of that trade with the Lions they seem to forget about him."

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE wish to express heartfelt thanks to the neighbors and friends for their kindness, sympathy and beautiful floral offerings during the illness and death of our beloved husband, father, brother and grandfather, Jerome B. Wife, Mrs. Essie Arkward, sons, daughter, sister and grandchildren.

OUR sorrow is hard to bear, but we know that without the comfort and consolation of our friends, neighbors and relatives, the loss of our beloved son, JOHN would have been a heavy burden. Junior Editors Quiz on INDIANS

QUESTION: How were arrowheads made?

ANSWER: When early man found he could split pieces of one rock off with another and get a cutting edge, he had taken a tremendous step in weapon making. Now he could make axes, spearheads, scrapers for softening hides, knives and later, when the bow and arrow were discovered, arrowheads. Stone arrowheads were used, not only by Indians but by primitive people in many parts of the world. Certain hard stones, such as flint and obsidian, have a natural tendency to flake off. The first step in making an arrowhead (1) would be to use a "hammer stone" to knock pieces or "blanks" off a good bit of material Many might be close to arrowhead shape. Often they split with one flat side. Mr. Stone Age Man would take a pointed bit of bone and peck around the edges until the blank was arrow-head shape. Then (2) he would press with his tool along the edge. If this was done just right, a flake would drop off. By going all around the flint, breaking off chips, the arrowhead could be made razor sharp. With their wonderfully made arrow heads, Indians could kill the largest game.

FOR YOU TO DO: Start a collection of arrowheads. They may be bought cheaply, or you may be lucky enough to find some. In case you insist on chipping some out of stone, here's a caution: use goggles lest tiny bits of stone injure your eyes.

On this date:

In 1787, Rhode Island prohibited African slave trade.

In 1835, the Morse alphabet code for telegraphy was patented.

In 1900, the first names chosen for New York University's Hall of Fame included George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Daniel Webster, Ulysses Grant, Benjamin Franklin, John Marshall and Thomas Jefferson.

Today's birthdays:

A TRIBUTE TO
AREA INDUSTRY
Today begins a week-long observance of "Industry Appreciation Week" which is being co-sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants Association. This special section is dedicated to all industries in this area which have contributed in so many ways to the good standard of living most of us enjoy.

Industry Appreciation Week Gets Under Way In Area

Industry Appreciation Week opened today in the East Liverpool area, a salute to manufacturing plants and the vital role they play in the economic, cultural and civic life of the community.

A joint effort of the Chamber of Commerce and the East Liverpool Merchants Association, the program will continue through Saturday.

Displays furnished by 36 industrial firms will be in the windows and on the floors of East Liverpool stores, showing the finished products or some phase of the operations of each participating firm.

Another highlight of the observance will come Tuesday night at the fall membership meeting of the Chamber, which will center on the theme, "Salute to Industry".

Thomas R. Johnson, executive director of the Ohio Manufacturers Association at Columbus, will speak to the Chamber members following a 6:30 buffet dinner at the Country Club.

The six-day program will place particular emphasis on the diversity of products turned out in what once was known as a "one-industry town".

East Liverpool plants and their workers produce a wide variety of goods for the marketplace, including such items as steel, dinnerware, sewer pipe, ladle brick, paper products, artware, roofing and siding, electrical porcelain and fabricated machinery.

Alvin T. Babb, as president of the Chamber, issued a general invitation to Tri-State area residents to "join in the spirit of this program and avail themselves of an opportunity to see the industrial displays".

Both Babb and Ralph A. Finley, president of ELMA, pointed to the role industrial plants play in providing job opportunities and paying taxes that in turn assure continued health in the area's economy and support for its local governments and school systems.

Participating stores will display banners with the legend: "We Appreciate Our Industries" The big banners feature blue lettering on a white background with a red border.

Each participating store will award a gift to one of its visitors during the week. At the end of the observance, several more gifts will be presented, donated by area manufacturers who turn out consumer goods.

Presentation of the gifts will help stimulate interest in the program and viewing of the manufacturers' exhibits, ELMA said.

Plans for the observance have been under way since early this year, in charge of the merchants' Executive Committee and the Chamber industrial development committee.

The ELMA committee is comprised of Dayton Allen, chairman, Don Eckert, James Locke, Thomas Phillips, Charles Stuart, George A. Shaw and Finley

Here's a list of the exhibitors, showing first the industrial firm and then the store in which its displays will be arranged.

Mayor Praises Observance

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet today commended the observance of Industry Appreciation Week as "a well-deserved tribute to the industries in the East Liverpool area."

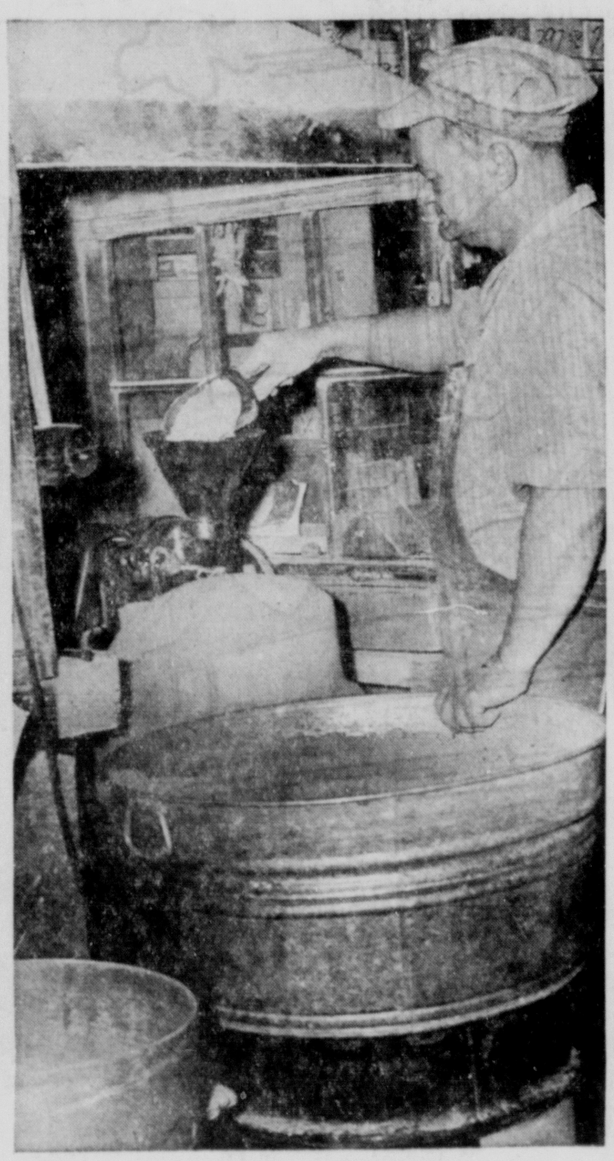

"The city government and I, as mayor, appreciate the role which industrial concerns have played in aiding the economy of this area and assisting in its growth and development," the mayor said.

"Through their enterprise, these concerns have provided employment for our citizens and contributed a share to the support of local government and educational facilities.

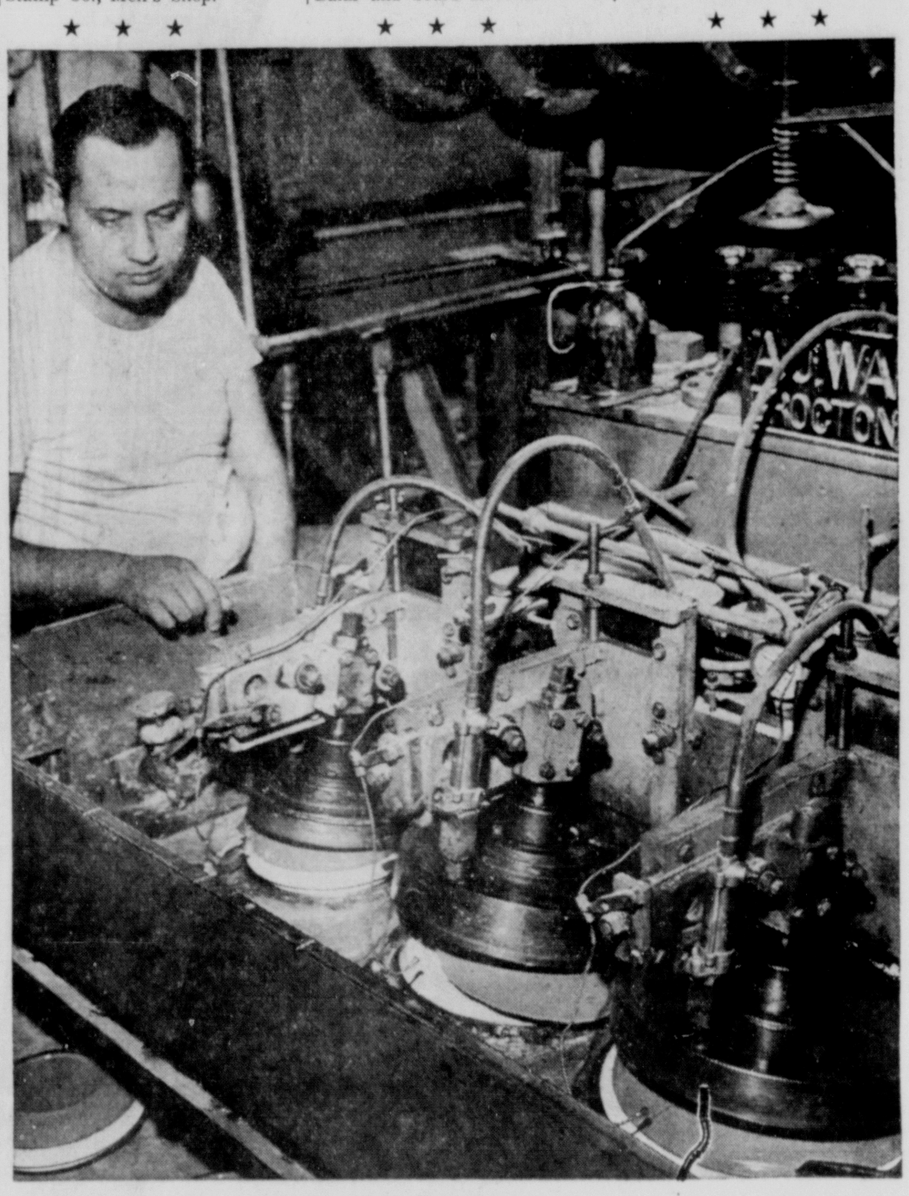

"It would be fitting if every resident took advantage of this opportunity to visit the industrial displays and learn more of the manufacturing techniques and their products."

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Adoption Of Children Discussed

Adoption means the severance of the rights and responsibilities of the natural parents of the child and the creation of new legal ties for both the child and the adoptive parents. Next to the child's being reared in the home of his natural parents, adoption is regarded as the most effective means to assure him the intimate relationship of family life. Half the adoptions in the United States are by persons related to the child by blood or marriage — step-parents, grand-parents, uncles, aunts, or other close relatives. Of the remainder, about 60% are conducted by authorized agencies. Such adoption by non-relatives is coming to be considered the ideal way.

Dr. Garry Meyers

MOST PARENTS wishing to adopt a child are looking for the "blue ribbon" baby. They soon learn that the agency expects the adoptive parents to be able to assume the same reasonable risks which natural parents accept when they have their own child.

So the agency checks as carefully on the prospective adoptive parents as on the child available for adoption.

About 75% of children adopted by non - relatives are born out of wedlock. Of the 4,000,000 babies born yearly in the United States, about 200,000, or 5% are born to unwed mothers and most of these children are available for adoption. About 65% of them, or 125,000, are non-white and interracial children and 35%, or 75,000, are white.

FOR EVERY 10 couples who apply for a white child to adopt, only one couple gets a child. The increased demand for children to adopt has won an increasing acceptance of the older child, the handicapped child and the child of interracial background.

"Adoption of Children" may be had for $1 from the American Academy of Pediatrics, 1801 Hinman Ave., Evanston, Illinois.

Trio Fails In Bid To Pull Bank Job With Stolen Keys

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three gunmen wearing stocking masks took the keys to a branch bank from the manager in his Hunting Valley home Sunday, but the gunmen did not enter the bank.

Theodore C. Tonti, 46, manager of the Eastgate branch of the Cleveland Trust Co., told authorities the gunmen were waiting inside the house when he and his wife, Eleanor, and their son, Theodore Jr., 14, returned home from a party about 12:30 a.m.

The manager and his family were bound with surgical tape and forced to lie on the floor while the intruders threatened them with a submachinegun and two pistols.

Tonti said he was forced to give the bank keys to the men. But he said he told them the vault had a time lock that would not open until this morning. The gunmen then left the keys in the home and departed in Tonti's car.

Tonti's car was found abandoned in front of a nearby bowling alley. Police said there were no signs of any attempt to enter the bank.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My kids just had to be different! Instead of plain white chalk they used crayons to make hop-scotch squares on our sidewalk.

I cannot get these marks off. Surely, some other reader has had this same problem. I would be most thankful if they would let me know how it was solved.

IRRITATED FATHER

Anyone know? If so . . . let's calm this man down by telling him how to get those marks off. Write to Heloise in care of The Review. All letters will be most appreciated as this is quite a common problem.

HELOISE

Dear Heloise: I will admit that the woman who wrote about hanging a glove on the radio antenna of her automobile so she could find it in a big parking lot had a good idea but . . . I tried it.

I not only had a hard time finding my car but had a time finding my own glove! I counted 18 gloves on antennas in a very small parking area. I also had to explain to a very mixed-up policeman "why all the gloves on the radio antennas!"

PHYLLIS CROCKER

DEAR HELOISE: Add powdered milk to flour — mix it — and season with salt and pepper. Keep this in a can with a tight lid. I use a vegetable shortening can. This can be used for many things. For instance: after putting chicken in a paper sack with this mixture—I shake it vigorously. Let it stand a few minutes and shake again. Fry chicken as usual. Watch carefully as this browns very quickly with the addition of the powdered milk to the flour.

A. C.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have a grease spot on your shoes, try rubbing cornstarch on it.

Since a woman told us in your column that an ice cream scoop held exactly one-fourth cup when measuring in your kitchen . . . mine is no longer put in the back of the drawer, and seldom used! I use it daily. Thanks! It's wonderful.

E.

DEAR GALS: Did you know . . . for those of you who have garbage disposals . . . that instead of taking your hand and pushing the "stuff" down the drain, you can take your sponge to do the pushing job. Yep, you sure can. Try it.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Why doesn't our bathroom linen closet look like those in the ads? Hodgepodge! Get rid of all of your miscellaneous towels, sheets, etc. as soon as possible. This was my answer.

I buy at least seven pairs of socks at a time — all in one color — preferably white for girls and black for men. If I have a big hole in one, I throw it away and I am not left with one unmatched sock!

Why patch one sock when you can buy a few matching pairs at a time and use "another mate" for it and have one good pair.

READER

DEAR HELOISE: Soak cucumbers in salt and water an hour before using. They are more digestible.

B.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Graduating from one dress size to the next larger is almost more than a woman can bear. She'll fight to the last strained seam, and until she has only one dress she can squeeze into.

Ida Jean Kain

To get the picture on dress sizes, first understand that there is a weight range within which you can wear a certain size dress. The smaller the dress size category, the smaller the range.

In small sizes there is a 10 pound difference from one size to the next; in the medium sizes there is a 12 to 14 pound difference; and in large sizes there are 16 or more pounds between sizes.

Women are sensitive on the subject of dress sizes. Naturally they want to wear the smallest dress size possible.

THE MANUFACTURERS, catering to this innate desire, have placed their size labels near the top of the weight range within which a woman can wear the size. In short, it is within 2 to 4 pounds of the top weight limit on that size.

So it is plain to see that the exact number of pounds to your next dress size depends on how close you are to that top limit. Another factor figures in size — and that is where you weigh. Generally it's the waist measure that pinches.

When the squeeze is on, we might wish dress manufacturers would allow a mite more leeway through this middle measurement. But would we? No figure that is dominated by the waistline can be graceful.

Nature's original design was to make the figure narrow at the waist — the better to turn, bend and move easily. The more latitude through the waist measurement, the more matronly the figure.

Which muscles shape the waist? It's the external obliques which are part of the abdominal girdle. Tone in these particular muscles which wrap the waist at the sides help to keep the abdomen flat and the waistline fashionably slim.

The waistline is the real test of dress size because dresses are fitted at the waist. And there is the secret to wearing your right size with ease — keep the waist measurement under control. This single exercise will help to slim the waist and tone the girdle muscles too. . .

Position: "Stand" on knees, have arms outstretched at sides, shoulder level. Now sit back on heels. Get a firm grip on the girdle muscles by pulling up-and-in strongly. Hold.

ACTION: Bend slowly to right side, aiming to touch fingers of right hand to floor at side — hold. Back to center position and b-e-n-d to the left.

The second time, try to stretch out with left fingers as you bend to reach down to the right. This gives a bias stretch. On third try, actually l-i-f-t buttocks slightly off heels as you bend and stretch.

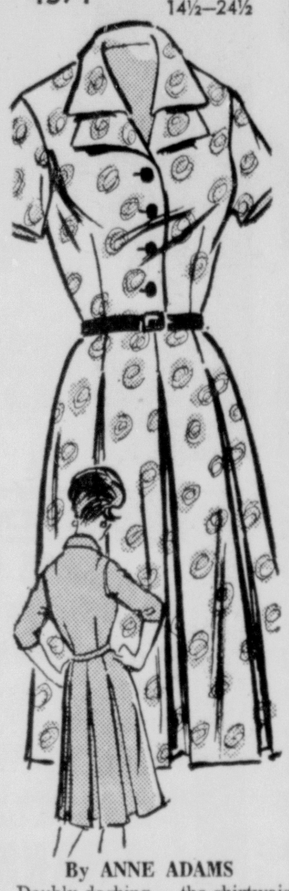

In as short a time as two weeks there will be a measurable difference in your waist.

Send a stamped, self - addressed long envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Lausche Warns U.S. Must Stay Alert In Danger

CLEVELAND (AP)—The United States must remain alert although it has gained a victory in the agreement by the Soviets to withdraw missile bases from Cuba, U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, says. He said the withdrawal may be merely a tactical operation on the part of the Communists.

The senator returned to the neighborhood in which he was raised to attend the 50th anniversary celebration of the Lira Choir of St. Vitus Catholic Church Sunday.

In an interview aht the ceremonies he said the Cuban situation must be watched closely at all times to insure that the Soviets do not return to their original intentions.

Recent Cuban developments verified the correctness of President Kennedy's position, Lausche said.

"Russian agreement to dismantle the missile bases is an admission by Khrushchev that what he did was wrong," the senator observed. He said he believed Khrushchev realized that he was sitting on a "keg of dynamite."

Crashes Kill 13 In Ohio On Weekend

By The Associated Press

Two double-fatality accidents—one Saturday in Athens County and the other Sunday in Portage County—helped push Ohio's week end traffic death toll to at least 13. It was the second weekend in a row the traffic toll reached the unlucky number.

Two deaths in fires, a bomb accident and a case of carbon monoxide poisoning sent the overall weekend toll, compiled by the Associated Press, to 17—the highest in six weeks.

Not included were the deaths of two men whose bodies were found in an automobile parked along an Athens County road near Coolville. Authorities said they may have been victims of carbon monoxide poisoning. However, a ruling was not made immediately.

The fatalities:

Sunday

John C. Widman, 26, Fremont, when his car struck a bridge abutment on Ohio 53 seven miles north of Fremont.

Michael Sopkovich, 32, Youngstown, and his son, James, 18 months, in a headon collision on U.S. 224 one mile west of Randolph (Portage County).

Joe Russell, 16, Cleveland, of injuries suffered Saturday when the car he was in went off Memorial Shoreway in Cleveland and rolled down a 35-foot embankment.

Arthur Edward McKinley, 61, Dayton, apparently of carbon monoxide poisoning from a heater or defective flue in his apartment.

Saturday

Richard Poje, 20, Barberton, and Randy Lewis Moreland, 18, Kettering, both Ohio University students, in a collision on U.S. 33 just north of Athens.

James D. Jarvis, 24, formerly of Harrison, W. Va., but a resident of Dayton for two days, in an auto collision in Dayton.

Jack Mainwaring, about 35, Alliance, when struck by shrapnel from an aerial bomb which exploded as he was preparing to fire it to signify a touchdown at the Mount Union-Hiram football game.

Earl E. Taylor, 49, Chippewa Lake (Medina County), of injuries suffered when his auto crashed into a ditch near Lodi.

Thomas M. Yelenic, 19, Madison, when his auto crashed into a tree three miles east of Painesville.

Virgil Brown, 48, Rt. 1, Baltic (Coshocton County), crushed when the farm truck he was driving failed to negotiate a curve on Ohio 643 and turned over about 15 miles northeast of Coshocton.

David Lyles, 13, Cincinnati, when he was locked accidentally inside a parked house trailer in which he was trying to put out a fire.

Walter Fayer (age unavailable), Toronto, in a fire that destroyed the building containing the Boyer Printing Co. and the weekly Toronto Tribune.

Friday Night

Robert Warren, 46, Ashland, Ky., in an auto collision on U.S. 52 about seven miles east of Ironton.

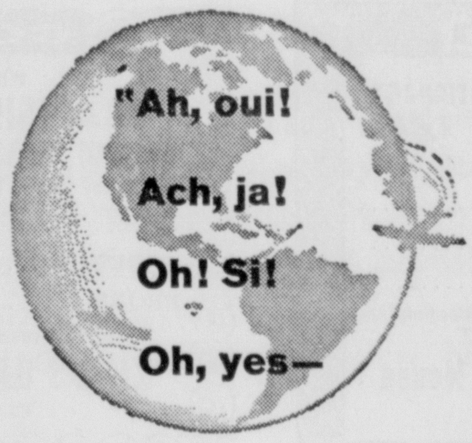

Joyce Kopey, 18, Boardman Twp. (Mahoning County), when the car she was driving went off a road and hit a tree about a half-mile east of Columbiana.

Charles Hutzell, 34, Lake Milton (Mahoning County), when he lost control of his car and it struck a tree south of Newton Falls near Warren.

When par-boiling or boiling onions that are to be stuffed, leave the root ends untrimmed during preliminary peeling so that the onions will stay whole.

Look for the Steelmark when you buy

When the STEELMARK appears on a product in a store, it means that the product is a good buy, that you will get your money's worth because it is made of steel produced in the United States by American men and women. It has become a symbol of a progressive industry.

The STEELMARKS above represent the types of fine steel produced by the men and women who work in the mills at Weirton Steel Company. 2 Ohio Units Get Orders For Duty

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Two more Ohio Air Force Reserve squadrons and a wing headquarters have been called to active duty in the Cuba crisis.

Two squadrons of the 302nd Troop Carrier Wing, based at Clinton County Air Force Base near here, were ordered to active duty Saturday night by Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara.

Last Thursday, the 8378th Air Force Reserve Recovery Group and the 9223rd Air Force Reserve Recovery Squadron, both of Columbus, were activated for 10 days. They are working at Port Columbus Airport in Columbus.

In ordering the callup 24 troop carrier squadrons Saturday night, McNamara said they would serve up to 12 months.

Col. Donald J. Campbell of Cincinnati, 302nd Wing commander, said his units will remain at Clinton County for the present time. The wing's third squadron, the 357th based at Mobile, Ala., also was among the 24 units activated.

A third Ohio Reserve troop carrier squadron, the 757th at Youngstown, was not listed among the units recalled.

Boats On Reservoir

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ordinary power boats may help reduce taste and odor in water from reservoirs because they break up algal blooms, the Columbus Water Department contends. But department officials says high-speed boats have a different effect because they may bring up odor-laden water from below.

Surprise In Reverse

DALLAS CENTER, Iowa (AP) — Lawrence A. Fox almost always is at his insurance office at 8 a. m. So, for his birthday two office secretaries arranged a surprise party for 8:15 a. m. Mrs. Fox, his parents and others were there on schedule. But not Fox. He decided to make a few business calls that morning before checking in at his office.

Sandusky Slates Parade In Honor Of Miss America

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—America's personification of charm and beauty, Jacquelyn Jeanne Mayer, reigning Miss America, comes home this week for the first time since her crowning, and Sandusky is going all out to welcome her.

For weeks the townfolks have been making preparations — hanging banners and arranging events in Jackie's honor.

A contingent from Sandusky plans to meet her at Cleveland Hopkins Airport Wednesday night. The next day, Miss Mayer will visit public schools, including Sandusky High School, from which she graduated.

Thursday afternoon a parade is scheduled. A public reception at the high school is planned that night.

Friday morning, Miss Mayer is to cut a ribbon opening the new Sandusky bypass highway from Huron to Ohio 4. She then goes to Mansfield, scene of her triumph as Miss Ohio, for another parade.

Jackie returns to Sandusky Saturday to visit the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home and to attend four dances in her honor.

She is scheduled to return to New York Sunday.

Kentucky Old Folks

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — According to the federal census, 268 of Kentucky's 3,038,156 residents in 1960 were 100 years of age or older. Women outnumbered men 143 to 125.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove iron rust stains from a garment?

A. Cut a thick slice of lemon, place it directly on the fabric over the rust marks, and then hold the material over the steaming spout of a teakettle until the marks disappear.

Q. How can I prevent spot rings from forming on fabrics when removing stains from them?

A. By placing a felt-covered furniture floor cup under the spot while applying the cleaning fluid. In addition to preventing a ring from forming, the brush-like fibers of the felt also keep the material from slipping when the spot is rubbed.

Q. How can I soften butter quickly for easy spreading?

A. Fill a bowl with boiling water, empty it, and turn it upside down over your butter dish. The butter will soften without melting.

Q. How can I perk up some "tired-looking" cloth artificial flowers?

A. With a dunking in starch. Add some cake coloring or dye to your starch and, after dipping the flowers, hang them head down to dry.

Q. How can I remove stains caused by leather rubbing against a fabric?

A. These stains are among the tough ones. If the material is washable, try soap and water, using plenty of soap, and rubbing well. If glycerin is worked into the stain first and allowed to stand for a half-hour or more, the stain will yield more easily. On unwashables, try glycerin, working this into the stain carefully with a glass rod, or rubbing lightly between the hands. Let remain for a half-hour, then rinse by sponging with water.

Q. How can I remove burnt spots from granite?

A. Cover the spots with a teaspoonful of baking soda, mixed to a paste with water, then heating it. Never try to scrape with a knife.

Q. How can I clean nickel satisfactorily?

A. Apply kerosene and whiting, then polish with a dry flannel cloth. Common baking soda is also a good nickel polish.

WE APPRECIATE

OUR INDUSTRIES

The East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants Association have designated this week as "INDUSTRY APPRECIATION WEEK."

We hope that the program arranged for this tribute will point up the value of our industries. Everyone living in this area will be more conscious of their importance to his livelihood and their contribution to every phase of life in this community.

Most of the area industries have entered into the spirit of this week-long observance by providing displays to be shown in over 30 downtown East Liverpool stores.

Those who see these displays will quickly realize that we have a diversification of industries which produce goods for the consumer as well as products for other manufacturers.

The plants whose displays you will see this week are responsible for over 90% of our industrial growth in recent years. They have spent millions of dollars for expansion and modernization . . . thus providing more jobs directly or indirectly for those who live here.

The salaries and wages paid by these industries are largely responsible for the $40 million annual retail sales in the community and for employment of over 1,600 people in the retail and service fields.

Most of the owners and employees of our industrial firms can be counted upon to take the lead with other civic-minded citizens to promote area projects whether they be spiritual, cultural, civic or other endeavors to make our community a better place in which to live.

"Industry Appreciation Week" is a good time for all of us to recognize the importance of these industries and to express thanks for the benefits they provide us.
